A Fading Empire.

The political climax of affairs in Mexico is evidently very near. The Atlantic Cable tells us that the Mexican Empress has failed in her mission to Napoleon, and it seems clear that Maximilian must abdicate, and give place to the rightful authority of the Mexican nation,—a republican form of government. Monterey and Tampico have been captured by the Liberals; conspiracies for the overthrow of the Imperial government are reported in Vera Cruz and Mexico city; the French troops are proving less and less reliable, while the Liberals are closing around them in large and rapidly increasing forces, just as General Grant closed his forces around the Southern Confederacy. How long can Maximilian hope to contend against this state of things? The people of Mexico are themselves in favor of the Liberals, to whom they give aid and comfort at every opportunity. Indeed, the success which now attends Juarez has led them to throw off all disguise in many cases, and they are accordingly flocking to the Liberal standard. Imperialism in Mexico never was a fixed fact. From the very outset it has been attended with the hottest strife, and by the succession of victories which the Liberals have achieved, and by the forced contraction of the French military lines, the territory under the rule of Maximilian has been gradually cut down, until it comprises almost nothing. The capital is still held by Maximilian, but the Liberals will no doubt soon cut it off from all communication with the outside world, and then Maximilian must yield or starve. His retreat will be cut off, and no assistance can possibly reach him. But it is not probable that Maximilian will allow himself to be hemmed in by the Liberals. He will keep communication open between himself and Vera Cruz until even that is no longer possible, and we shall, probably, wake up some fine morning in the near future, and learn that he has suddenly packed his trunks, and with his scanty retinue at his heels fled the country to join Mrs. Maximilian, who is now in Europe. Such, we believe, is to be inevitably the inglorious end of the would-be Emperor of Mexico. We await the tableau with patience and confidence.

Postponement of the American Pomological Society.

WHEREAS, The American Pomological Society was ordered to be convened at St. Louis, Missouri, on the fourth day of September next, for the purpose of holding its Eleventh session;

WHEREAS, The existence of cholera in several of the cities of the United States has become manifest, thereby creating more than usual trepidation in regard to visiting places distant from home:

Therefore, in consideration of this fact, and also of the fact that there is a small crop of fruit in many parts of our country, the undersigned, by and with the advice of the Executive Committee and other leading Pomologists, does hereby postpone and defer the meeting of said society to the year A. D. 1867, when due notice will be given for its assembling, in the aforesaid city of St. Louis.

MARSHALL P. WILDER, President.
JAS. VICK, Secretary.

Relics of the Rebellion.

A short time since the commanding officer at Petersburg, Va., was astonished by the entrance of four most wonderfully ragged specimens of humanity, who stacked their muskets in front of his headquarters, and announced themselves the remnant of the Army of Northern Virginia, desirous to surrender on the terms accorded to the main body. Three were Georgians, and one from Louisiana. It seems that on Lee's hasty retreat in April, 1865, these stragglers lingered on the Appomattox, about seven miles above Petersburg, and were cut off. Finding it impossible to join their regiments, and determined not to go home while the Confederacy existed, they sought out a habitable cave in the rocky bank of the river, and after some trouble made for themselves a comfortable home. They lived on fish and game and an occasional roasted ear of corn during the spring and summer, and on the same diet, with an occasional pig captured roaming about the fields, all last winter. Recently they encountered an old negro who assured them that the Confederacy was indeed totally annihilated; and reluctantly crediting the news they abandoned their hermitage and sought once more the haunts of civilized men. The Union colonel in command at Petersburg gave them transportation home, and the citizens of the Cockade City gave them new suits of clothing, and treated them so hospitably that they left for home in a state of great hilarity.

HEMP AND WIRE ROPE.—An English establishment has undertaken the manufacture of a new and valuable kind of rope. The tests of its superiority have been made by means of an improved hydraulic machine, and from the very satisfactory manner in which it bore the tests applied to it, appears likely to come into general use. The principle consists in making a rope of hemp and wire combined, which is found to give even a greater degree of strength than wire rope, with the pliability of that made of hemp. It is manufactured by placing a single wire inside of every rope yarn, securely coating each wire with hemp, and separating each hard substance, making a sort of cushion for each wire to bed upon, so that when any heavy strain is applied the wires do not cut each other as in all wire rope. Its superiority over hemp rope for mining purposes is its taking the same breaking strain at less than half the weight of hemp rope, and, compared with chain, at less than one-quarter the weight of ordinary chain. This description of rope has now for some time been in use in the English docks, in hauling vessels in and out of the docks, and the manner in which it has borne this severe practical test has fully proved its efficiency.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT'S GROUNDS—There is at the present time a most decided improvement going on in the alteration of the grounds surrounding the President's mansion at Washington. The road running at the back of the Treasury building is nearly finished, and a more lasting and elegant piece of work it would be difficult to find in the United States. The greatest care and labor were taken to make this road what it really is, a model of neatness and durability. At each end running into Pennsylvania avenue, two magnificent gateways are in process of construction. The old gate in front of the avenue has been removed and a new one is now being made in a more prominent position, being several yards in advance of the position of the former entrance, so that it will strike the view at once. At the other end of this road, fronting the portion of Pennsylvania avenue to the right of the Treasury building, a similar entrance is being made, and yesterday one of the columns was successfully laid and completed, together with the commencement of the second. Some little improvements are also being made at the east wing of the Executive Mansion.

THE PRINCE IMPERIAL.—An occasional correspondent to the New York Commercial writes from Paris that at the annual distribution of prizes at the Imperial College of Paris and Versailles, M. Drouyn de Lhuys presided and made a speech, in which he pointed out the value of classical studies, of foreign languages, and of historical knowledge. Alluding to the present Emperor, he said: "By what means was this calm and vigorous intellect formed? Was he not initiated in the art of governing people and things by the deep study of the annals of antiquity? Had not the same pen that had just traced the preliminaries of peace, also written the 'Life of Cæsar'?" Fortunate is the young prince, who, finding at the same time a model in acts and a lesson in the writings of his father, is thus preparing to be an example to the generation of which you are precursors."

POLAR ICE AND THE GULF STREAM.—M. Gray, in a letter read before the French Academy on the Polar Ice and the Gulf Stream, expressed the opinion that the stream keeps up its identity as far as the north of Siberia, and only loses itself in the Polar Basin. He contended that the Pole is by no means always occupied with ice, and that as the waters of the Gulf Stream keep themselves open in the spaces of the glacial seas which they traverse, it is in the propagation of that current between the Spitzbergen Group and Nova Zembla that we ought to look out for the easiest route by which to arrive at the Arctic geographical Pole.

A POLITICAL feud, between the citizens of Goldsboro, Miss., and the surrounding country, grew into a tremendous mob, gathering in the country, marching up town, and threatening to burn it down. The people armed themselves to resist, when the forces met. A parley took place, which resulted in the country people dispersing for their homes.

PEACE.

Treaties Signed on Wednesday.

LONDON, August 23, noon—Peace between Austria and Prussia was to be signed yesterday, and ratified in eight days. Peace was also to be signed between Prussia and Bavaria.

PRUSSIA.

Annexation of Territory to Prussia.

BERLIN, PRUSSIA, August 21.—The cabinet policy asserts that the hostile attitude maintained towards the government of the King of Prussia, by the Kingdom of Hanover, the people of the territory of Electoral Hesse, Nassau, and the late free city of Frankfort, has determined the Prussian Executive to at once destroy their independence and annex them completely to the Kingdom of Prussia.

BAVARIA.

Political and Commercial Relations.

MUNICH, BAVARIA, August 21.—The Prussian Government has officially promised to the Bavarian Cabinet an early and definite settlement and adjustment of the political and commercial relations of the kingdom, disturbed by the late war. The commercial affairs will be regulated according to the German Zollverein, which will be established in the territory. Bavaria, after having contemplated an armed resistance on her own account to the Prussian authority, had submitted to the demands of that Government. Prussia asks merely, she says, possession of the districts of Lichtenfels and Carlhof.

HANOVER.

Abdication of King George Demanded.

VIENNA, August 21.—King George, of Hanover, who is at present in this city, has been formally advised that the King and Government of Prussia demand the abdication of his crown. The aged and blind exiled man is willing to take the step, but declares it to be in favor of his son. The Queen of Hanover is using every effort which she can employ with the view of securing the succession to her son, but Prussia gives her no assurance.

Ravages of the Cholera.

The cholera is making sad ravages at Brunn, Pesth and Nikolsberg, and also among the wounded soldiers in this city.

SAXONY.

Resignation of Cabinet Ministers.

DRESDEN, August 21.—All the members of the Saxon Cabinet sent in their resignations to-day. The King has accepted only the resignation of Baron Beush.

ENGLAND.

Napoleon's Demands on Belgium.

LONDON, August 21.—The Emperor Napoleon has assured the Government and Cabinet of England that France will not demand the fortresses of Marienburg and Phillippeville from Belgium in the event of territorial changes on the continent of Europe.

Prussia to Evacuate Bohemia.

LONDON, August 23—NOON.—One of the conditions of peace between Prussia and Austria is that Prussia is to evacuate Bohemia within a fortnight.

ITALY.

Removal of Gen. La Marmora.

FLORENCE, ITALY, August 21.—General La Marmora has been removed from his position as Chief of the Staff of King Victor Emmanuel. General Cialdini succeeds him. La Marmora has not been in favor with the people since the period of the defeat of the Italian army at Custozza. When the invasion of Venetia was determined on, the plans submitted for adoption were debated in a council of war, La Marmora advocated a direct advance on the fortresses of the quadrilateral, Cialdini advising a march so as to avoid them. La Marmora's counsels prevailed, and the result is known. Cialdini's plan was subsequently carried out and succeeded. Gen. La Marmora has not regained his popularity since, and hence the present change.

RUSSIA.

Ovations to U. S. Officers.

ST. PETERSBURG, RUSSIA, August 21.—The officers of the United States war vessels, Miantonomah and Augusta, now in the Russian waters, continue to receive the most complimentary ovations wherever they go. The Russian Government, the merchant princes, and the populace all unite in doing honor to them. The officers have been present at a grand review of the Imperial Guards, by a special invitation of the Emperor Alexander. The Czar reviewed the troops in person, and fifty thousand men were paraded on the occasion.

Ambassador Recalled.

The Russian Ambassador who was accredited to the late German Bund, has been recalled to St. Petersburg.

Revolt Among Polish Exiles.

The Poles who are held in exile and imprisonment in Eastern Siberia, have risen in revolt against the Russian authorities. The military were at once employed against them, and thirty-five of the insurgents were killed, and the remainder captured or dispersed over the country.

ISLE OF CANDIA.

Uprising of Christians.

ATHENS, GREECE, August 21.—Advices received in this city from Candia, dated on the 9th inst., state that the Christian population there demanded certain measures of Governmental reform from the Porte, which being refused, they rose in arms, displaying the standards of three protecting powers, and of Greece. They have proclaimed their independence. The Governor treats the Christians as rebels, and has sent for a reinforcement of Turkish troops.

The cholera interments in six of the principal cemeteries in the city on Monday and Tuesday were two hundred and sixty. There are about twenty cemeteries in and around the city. The Board of Health have arranged to get prompt daily reports from all burying grounds hereafter. The weather is very cold, damp and unfavorable for cholera.

CLEVELAND TROTTING FAIR.

The First Day's Proceedings—An Exciting Two Mile Race—A Pittsburgh Horse Distanced—The Race Awarded Under Protest.

The inauguration of the Cleveland Trotting Fair took place on Wednesday, and was very largely attended. There were two trots, which are described by the Cleveland Herald as follows: The first trot was two miles and repeat, to harness, free to all. Premium $800. First horse to get $590; second $200, and third $100. The start, however, was made for the second race first. Between the heats of this race, the heats of the two mile and repeat race was made. At the call for class 2, premium $200 for horses owned in Cleveland that have never shown the time of $2:50, the following entries came up:

Wm. Shelden enters b. h. "Bay Jim."
Geo. Perkins enters ch. g. "Jim."
T. Elwood enters b. g. "Union Jack."
W. H. Potts enters b. m. "Lady Jones."
C. Rozencranz enters b. g. "Oliver T. Orlin."
Wm. Brown enters r. g. "Fitz Morrell."
E. H. Lewis enters g. g. "Commodore."

The horses were all brought up in front of the stand and the Judge announced the order in which they would start. Lady Jones had the first position accorded her; Commodore got second place; Fitz Morrell third; Bay Jim fourth; Union Jack fifth; Chestnut Jim sixth; and Orlin on the outside. The first attempt to "go" was a failure, some of the horses being far behind the others when they approached the line. The bell rang and all were pulled up. Another effort was no better than the first. The horses being scattered along the stretch for more than a hundred yards. A third attempt was made without a start, and the next effort was worse still. At last they were all drawn up in line at the distance flag and started from a stand still. This last arrangement left Union Jack keeping step to a raccoon pace, which distanced him more than a fourth of a mile at the outcome. Orlin did but little better, jumping and pitching furiously, and scarcely coming to a trot before he would fly up again, which dropped him a long ways out of his distance before the half mile was finished.

First Heat.—At the word "go" Commodore took the lead, followed closely by Fitz Morrel, with Chestnut Jim third. At the quarter pole Fitz Morrell passed Commodore, who gradually began to fall back, and when the mile was finished came in fifth. Chestnut Jim soon came up to Commodore, gave him the pass word, and went on to engage the company of Fitz Morrell. These two now came down the stretch together, but before the string was reached they both broke up and were only pulled down to their work again just in time to pass the half mile (stand) at a trot which was done with Chestnut in the lead by half a length. This horse now began to show open space on Fitz Morrell and got away from him quite rapidly, winning the heat in 2:44. Lady Jones got second position on the last half mile passing Fitz Morrell, who came in third. Bay Jim was fifth until nearly out, when Commodore fell behind him and he got the fourth place at the string. Some little betting had been done before the start in favor of Commodore, Union Jack and Fitz Morrell. Chestnut Jim sold in the Pools for about one to six, the rest were scattering.

Second Heat.—At the word "go," Chestnut Jim got the lead, and soon strung out the whole party in the following order: Lady Jones, second; Fitz Morrell, third; Bay Jim, fourth; and Commodore fifth, which position was not changed to the end of the mile, which was made by Jim in the same time as the first heat 2:44, Commodore distanced.

Third Heat—Only three horses come to the start for this heat. Fitz Morrell was permitted to go on the retired list and seek comfort in his stall, much to the regret of those who invested in his name in the Pool rooms. At the start Chestnut Jim went away in the lead and kept away from the other two, winning easily in 2:45. Lady Jones did her best, but there was always some open space between her and the leader. Bay Jim took care of the rear all the way.

Previous to the starting in the first heat, charges were made against Commodore, Orlin, and the two Jims, for having somewhere beaten 2:50. The President, Gen. Fitch, announced that these horses would be allowed to go under protest, and at the close of the last heat the race was given to Chestnut Jim under protest. The parties who made the charges are allowed twenty days to produce proof that the horses named have made faster time than 2:50. Charges were also made against Lady Jones at the close that she too was faster than the law allows in such cases.

It may be that the purse is not won yet. If the three horses that finished the race are proven ineligible, the others being distanced before the last heat was made, the Club will have this purse on their hands to be trotted for at some future period.

Second Race.

Two mile heats, purse $800, free for all; $500 to go to first horse, $300 to second, and $100 to third. For this purse Silas Rich, Morrissey, Grey Pilot and Sir Walter came to the start. Sir Walter got the pole, Morrissey second, Pilot third place, and Rich on outside. About a dozen efforts were made to get a start. At length a very fair send off was had and all except Pilot, who was distanced at the end of the heat, were side by side to the quarter pole. Soon after passing that point Walter shoved in front, with Morrissey second and Rich third; all were up except Pilot. This position was not changed until near the end of the first mile, when Rich got second place. Morrissey broke several times, and on the next mile fell back considerable. Walter continued to lead to near the first quarter of second mile, when Rich came up square with him, and a most beautiful trot was made to the end of the mile, Rich losing by only a few feet. Time, first mile, 2:40, heat, 5:19; Morrissey a bad third; Pilot distanced. Rich was the favorite before the start at 100 to 50 against the field, but this heat made his backers feel a little timid. They were, however, still in their former faith, and willing to back Rich against the field even.

At the start for the second heat Rich went off in the lead and continued to open a gap on Walter, who was at the end of the heat almost 200 yards behind. Morrissey had rear position all the way, and just got inside the flag, which was at the head of the stretch. Time—first mile, 2:37; heat, 5:12. Rich was now the favorite at $100 to a neck-tie, and no takers.

At the start for the third heat Rich went away on the lead and kept that position to the end of the heat, winning easily in 5:16. Walter second and Morrissey deserted to the rear all the way. The purse was declared to Rich who had won two heats.

The winner is a light sorrel with two white feet behind, and is made as neat and trim about the limbs as a wild deer. He is a Kentucky bred horse, and has for his ancestry the pure blood racing stock of the "Blue Grass Country." It is seldom a handsomer driving horse than Silas Rich is seen. The blood of the Glencoe family predominates in his veins crossed with the Boston blood that flows so freely in the renowned racer Lexington, who made the great four mile run at Orleans in the wonderful time of 7:19. Probably Walter would have beaten Rich in a short race, but when a feat has to be performed, blood will surely win.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.
ROCHESTER, PA., August 22, 1866.

The preparatory meeting of persons interested in the approaching camp meeting for Allegheny District, at Enon Valley, took place on Tuesday, and was largely attended. A survey of the selected ground was made and staked off, lots were laid out for tents, and arrangements made for "Preachers' tent" building, an inclosure for the "altar," and the seats prepared for the congregation.

Another meeting was appointed for next Tuesday, August 28th, at which time the lumber will be in readiness, and the work necessary for the public accommodation will be done. Tent-holders are expected to be on the ground and make their selection of sites.

It is understood that a boarding tent will be kept on the ground by members of the church at Columbiana, the profits of which are to be applied to the payment of their church debt.

The ground is beautifully located on the farm of Mr. Saynor, is said to have an abundance of good water near at hand; and in the fact that the preparation for the encampment is in the hands of a large and efficient committee, headed by B. Ramage, Esq., of Enon Valley, we have a guarantee that everything will be done right and in order.

This centenary camp meeting is expected to be one of the largest gatherings of the kind ever held in the district; and the spirit of this preliminary meeting augurs well for it. Already sites for near forty tents have been selected by parties from different parts of the district —and if all that we hear from other places be true, more than double that number of tents will be on the ground. One may add the hope that "the faithful" will be more fortunate in the weather than we were on Tuesday, since certainly "if the rains descend and the floods come" while the meeting progresses, as they did then, "great will" be the fall of tents, and of the expectation and enthusiasm of the "campers." Cold water in the shape of rain is a terrible damper on such occasions, and doubtless must be set down as a kind of a flank movement on the part of the arch-enemy, the "prince of the power of the air."

THE LIVERPOOL AND INDUSTRY CAMP MEETING.

Though thus "flanked," was nevertheless very largely attended. The rain of Sunday did not prevent the holding of four public services, during which the people stood out and "endured hardness (dampness)" as good soldiers, with very commendable patience and devotion. It is thought that the meeting will result in much good. X.

STATE ITEMS.

The Beaver Argus says: On Friday two weeks ago Mr. Milo Barnes, of Freedom, Beaver county, went from his home to Island Run, to assist in rearranging the machinery of an oil well, in which he was interested. While at work about the well a heavy stream of gas ascended from it which, coming in contact with the furnace caused an explosion. Mr. Barnes being within its area was badly burned on the back, arms and face. He continued in great agony until on Thursday last, when death ended his sufferings. He was aged about forty-eight years, and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss.

A young man name James Kane, while out "coon hunting" in White township, Indiana county, last Friday night, was accidentally shot by his companion, Clark Loughry. It is thought the ball is lodged in the groin, and his recovery is doubtful.

Mr. John Pensinger, a veteran of the rebellion, died at his residence in Chambersburg, on Tuesday of last week, after an illness of a few days. He was among the first to respond to the call of his country for troops, and entered the 2d Pennsylvania (three month) regiment, the expiration of his term of service he joined the 77th Pennsylvania volunteers, in which organization he served until near the close of the war, when he was discharged on account of disease contracted in the field. His remains were interred in Cedar Grove Cemetery, with the honors of war.

On Monday of last week, Mrs. Catharine Wertz died, at her residence in Conemaugh township, Cambria county, in the ninety-first year of her age. She was the mother of eleven children, nine of whom are still living—the age of the oldest of the nine being seventy years, and that of the youngest forty-six years, their united ages being five hundred and forty-three years, and their average sixty years and three months. Mrs. Wertz was also the ancestor of seventy-eight grandchildren, one hundred and twenty-six great-grandchildren, and six great-great-grandchildren. Her descendants number in all two hundred and twenty-four. At the time of her death she was in possession of all her faculties.

The Harrisburg Telegraph of Wednesday afternoon says:—"Within the past forty-eight hours, Harrisburg has lost three of its oldest citizens. Mr. Anthony Nininger, who has been a resident of Harrisburg for the last half century, died this morning at the advanced age of seventy-nine years. Mr. W. Willis, for sixty years a citizen of this place, died at his residence on Third street this morning, aged eighty years. Mrs. Catharine McCarty, of this city, has also been numbered with the dead. She was about seventy-five years old."

Anthony Nininger, a native of Alsace, France, died in Harrisburg, Wednesday morning, at the advanced age of 79 years. He served in the Napoleonic wars, and at their conclusion was taken prisoner, and confined on the barren island of Gibralter. He was taken from thence to England, and soon after sent to Canada, as a soldier in the British army. While the troubles were brewing there, he deserted, came to the United States, and soon after settled at Harrisburg, where he resided until his death. As a citizen he was always looked upon as an honest, truthful and industrious man; and his death is regretted by all with whom he was wont to associate.

A young man named George Bates, living in McKean township, Erie county, committed suicide on Saturday last, under circumstances of a very peculiar character. He announced to his friends that he should die at two o'clock on that afternoon, but they considered it a pleasantry. On the afternoon in question he threw his gun over his shoulder, proceeded to the woods, took out his knife and stuck it into a tree, fastening his watch thereon; and, at two o'clock precisely, shot himself through the heart, causing death almost instantly. Bates served in the 83d regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, as orderly to General Butterfield. No cause can be assigned for his rash act, says the Erie Dispatch, except the usual one of temporary insanity.

THE CABLE.—At a recent meeting of the French Academy of Science, M. Babinet, the distinguished French savant, referring to the fact that the Trans-Atlantic Cable has just been laid, said it would be interesting to take advantage of the electric communication between Newfoundland and Velentia to determine with precision the longitude of the American station. But there was reason to make haste, he said, because there were very few chances of the transmission lasting long. As a basis for his opinion, M. Babinet produced a piece of heavy telegraph cable which had been submerged at the bottom of the British Channel. The exterior metallic covering was completely eaten off the salt water, which had also commenced to affect the central twist. After stating the difference in the sizes of the cable exhibited and the Atlantic Cable, which is similar, and averring that the sea-water, destroys fully a millimetre (about 1-25th of an inch) of the metallic covering every year. M. Babinet reiterated his belief that the success of this cable would be only of ephemeral duration.

A curious bank robbery, which occurred in St. Louis on Monday, has just come to light. The officers of the First National Bank were taking their usual lunch in the back part of the banking room, leaving several large piles of money in the drawers and on the desks. The money was all right if they had kept their eyes upon it, but it appears they were all so intent upon gulping down their mid-day meal that for a moment at least they lost sight of the stocks and greenbacks. That moment was enough to enable some adroit thief to creep in, seize a $10,000 package, and steal out unobserved. It was some little time before the theft was discovered, and no one could tell in what manner the money was taken, or what sort of a man took it. The detectives have no clue by which to trace the robber, and he will probably never be discovered.

An Atlanta correspondent says: A committee of eight negroes left this morning for Washington, to confer with the authorities for transportation to Liberia for the thousands of freedmen who only wish to be where they can be considered capable of voting and holding property. OHIO NEWS ITEMS.

There has been considerable discussion in Ohio newspapers, of late, on the first white child born in Ohio. The Columbus Journal says: An old resident calls our attention to the fact that it is stated that Thomas Lord Pierce, who was born in 1790, at Marietta, and who recently died (buried) at Zanesville, was the first male child born in Ohio, and submits the following statement in contradiction; St. Clair Kelly was born in December, 1788; Leister Grosvenor Converse, born February 14, 1789; Joseph Barker, February 28, 1789, and George Dana about the same time. These statements show that Major Pierce, if born in 1790, was not the first white child born in Ohio.

The first case of cholera, says the Washington county News, so pronounced by the physicians in Marietta, occurred last Wednesday, and proved fatal, the subject dying at 3 o'clock on Thursday morning, after a sickness of twelve hours. The deceased was Miss Jane Phillips, aged eighteen years, living in the part of the city known as "Texas." She had worked hard during the day, washing and cleaning house, and became overheated.

CONCRETE BUILDINGS.—Concrete, as is well known, is a most valuable article for building purposes, and in England an ingenious method of moulding blocks of concrete for building purposes has lately been patented. The inventor proposes to erect houses entirely of concrete by casting the blocks in the places they are intended to occupy. An ordinary concrete foundation is first laid, and upon this horizontal frames, composed of wood lined with zinc are erected, forming a kind of trough, into which the concrete is poured. By the use of "cores," suitable holes for receiving joists or other purposes can be made as the work proceeds. Some buildings constructed upon this process are being erected at Paris, and it will be illustrated at the French Exposition next year.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 23.

Rush at the White House.

Everybody of any account, and a good many of no account in Washington, were in attendance at the White House to-day. The rush was the greater from the fact that to-morrow being Cabinet meeting day, those failing to obtain an audience to-day would be obliged to wait over until Saturday, and perhaps Monday. Among those who obtained private interviews were Ex-Governors Bright, of Indiana, and Pratt, of Maryland, Thurlow Weed and Henry J. Raymond, of New York, and Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio. At 3 P. M. the doors were opened, and the crowd admitted promiscuously.

Pardons.

The President yesterday gave orders to have pardons prepared and submitted for his signature in the case of three persons, under the thirteenth exception, one in Alabama and two in Virginia. To-day pardons were directed to be made out for one North Carolinian, two Louisianians and one Alabamian, all under the thirteenth exception, twenty thousand dollar clause, except one, which came under the first exception of the amnesty proclamation, or petty civil office clause.

Internal Revenue.

The receipts from Internal Revenue to-day were one million, six hundred and eighty thousand, one hundred and sixty-four dollars.

Important Order.

The following order was to-day issued by General Howard. After October 1st, the local authorities in the Southern States will be required to provide for the indigent within their borders, whether white or black.

WAR DEPARTMENT, BUREAU OF REFUGEES, FREEDMEN AND ABANDONED LANDS, WASHINGTON, August 22, 1866.

Circular No. 10.—In accordance with instructions of the Secretary of War, it is ordered that on and after the 1st day of October next the issue of rations be discontinued, except to the sick in regularly organized hospitals and to the orphan asylums for refugees and freedmen already existing, and that State officers who may be responsible for the care of the poor be carefully notified of this order, so that they may assume charge of such indigent refugees and freedmen as are not embraced in the above exceptions.

[Signed,] O. O. HOWARD,
Major General Commanding.

The following are the numbers of refugees and freedmen now receiving rations in the several States who will be affected by the above order—Virginia, 566; District of Columbia, 225; South Carolina, 221; Alabama, 287; Georgia, 174; Mississippi, 100; Florida, 380; Louisiana, 418; Arkansas, 128; Kentucky, 87.

Soldiers' Convention at Pittsburgh.

The Central Soldiers' and Sailors' League (Republican) of this district has put itself in communication with the leagues throughout the country, in regard to the proposed convention at Pittsburgh, on September 24th, which is intended to counteract the effect of the Conservative Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, which meets at Cleveland, September 17th. They have sent circulars for signatures, and it is understood that the movement already begins to assume considerable proportions.

More Appointments.

The following appointments have been officially announced to-day: Postmasters—Geo. W. Clark, Iowa City, Iowa; Franklin Curtis, Lima, New York; Isaac D. James, Fairfield, Iowa; Martin L. Norton, Grass Valley, California; Charles Case, Waukegan, Illinois; Marcus Boyd, Springfield, Missouri; Thomas A. Staples, Collector of Customs, Machias, Maine. Internal Revenue Collectors—James Anderson, of the Eighth District of Ohio; Asa Faulkner, Third Pennsylvania; Henry E. Mussey, Fourteenth Ohio; Daniel H. Winfield, Fourth New Jersey; James H. Butler, Fourth Maine. Assessors—S. G. Hicks, Eleventh Illinois; Thomas H. Benton, Sixth Iowa; George S. Cooper, Fourth Michigan; Cyrus O. Loomis, Second Michigan, J. Crocket Sayres, Sixth Kentucky.

Dispatch to the President.

The President to-day received the following dispatch from the National Labor Convention, now in session at Baltimore: The National Labor Convention now in session in this city, has appointed a Committee to wait on you. If convenient to receive said Committee when will be the time most convenient? In reply the President designated Saturday next for the reception of the Committee.

Personal.

Thinning Out.

The evening trains took away many of those who have been here during the present week, and the crowds at the hotels are considerably thinned out to-night. As the President and Cabinet start on their Chicago trip next Tuesday, it is probable that the present raid on Washington has culminated, and that the city will for a time lose its attractiveness, and be comparatively deserted by strangers.

Ratification Meeting.

Great preparations are being made for the grand mass ratification meeting here Saturday evening, that it may pass off with eclat, as it is the first of the series of such meetings to be held throughout the country during the next few weeks, and such as may be worthy of the National Capital and the country.

General Howard to be Relieved.

It is conceded by all parties, that General Howard is about to be relieved from duty as Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, and that General Tilison, lately Assistant Commissioner for Georgia, is to supercede him as head of the Bureau. The President sent for General Howard this morning and had an interview with him, the purport of which has not transpired, but is understood to have been in reference to the proposed change.

Secretary Stanton.

There is reason to doubt whether the Secretary of War will quit the Cabinet at present after all that has been said and done. The pressure on the President to make a change in the War Department is very great and difficult for him to resist, but it is understood that Secretary Seward stands by Stanton and that influences have been brought to bear upon the President for the purpose of securing his retention, at least until next session of Congress. It is surmised that the visit of Weed and Raymond to the capital had in view, among other things, the postponement of Mr. Stanton's dismissal, and it is said by his friends that he has succeeded in one more tiding over the breakers.

WASHINGTON, August 23.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TRIP.

Besides the members of the Cabinet and their families, it is expected that General Grant, Admiral Farragut, Admiral Radford, Surgeon General Barnes, and General McCallum, with their wives, and other distinguished persons, will accompany the President on his trip to Chicago. The Common Councils of New York, Albany, Auburn, Buffalo, and Detroit have tendered him official receptions, with reviews, collations and other hospitalities of their respective cities.

MEXICAN ADVICES.

Senor Romero received to-day official dispatches from Major General Ruggles, commanding Central Military Division of the Republic of Mexico, and Major General Alvez, commanding Military Division of the South. Both Generals report engagements with the Imperialists of secondary importance, and agree in the opinion that before the French leave Mexico, should they really do so, the position of Maximilian will be rendered untenable.

OUR NATIONAL FINANCES.

Letter from Secretary McCulloch.

NEW YORK, August 23.—In response to an invitation to attend a dinner of financiers and others, in Boston, Secretary McCulloch sent a letter declining the courtesy, with the following remarks: Although it was hoped that ere this the currency of the country would have been brought nearer to the specie standard, I am sure that the people have cause for congratulation that our finances are in so healthy a condition as they are. Since March, 1865, the war has been brought to a successful conclusion, immense armies have been disbanded, every soldier has been paid before mustered out of service, all maturing obligations of the Government have been satisfactorily provided for, while the national debt is nearly $250,000,000 less than it was estimated it would be at the present time, and the reduction of it has averaged for the past year more than $10,000,000 per month. If no other nation ever rolled up a debt so rapidly, none certainly ever commenced the reduction of its debt so soon after creation. If our currency is depreciated, we have so far escaped the financial troubles that usually occur among nations at the close of expensive wars, and which there was reason to apprehend would happen to us at the termination of the great war in which we have been engaged. If the business of the country is conducted upon a changing and uncertain basis, it has been subject to no severe revulsions. If our taxes are heavy, our resources are almost unlimited, while the disposition of the people to bear cheerfully these burdens, is a surprise even to those who have the greatest confidence in the honor and good faith of a free people. In my opinion the people of the United States are to make republicanism illustrious among nations by establishing the fact that the securities of a Republican government are the safest of all securities, and that the people who impose taxes upon themselves are most jealous of their national credit. I do not, however, disguise the fact that great financial difficulties are still to be overcome; that our present prosperity is rather apparent than real; that we are measuring values by a false standard; that we are in fact exposed to all the dangers which attend an inflated and redeemable currency, which diminishes labor,—the true source of national wealth, and stimulates speculation and extravagance, which leads invariably to thriftlessness and demoralization. Before the country becomes again really prosperous, the specie standard must be restored, prices reduced, industry stimulated, the products of the country increased, the balance of trade between the United States and other nations cease to be against us, all the great interests of the country cared for and protected by wise and impartial legislation, and all sections of the country be brought again to harmonious and practical relations with the General Government. That the country will be again thus really prosperous, is as certain as anything in the future. That it should be so at an early day, and, too, without financial disaster, it is only necessary that proper legislation by Congress, economy in public expenditures, and fidelity on the part of those who are entrusted with the management of the public revenue. Trusting that you will pardon me for writing so long a letter in acknowledging the receipt of your very courteous invitation, I remain, very truly, your obedien servant,

[Signed] HUGH McCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

To Messrs. Wm. Gray, Nathaniel Thayer, Thos. B. Wales, R. W. Thall and others, Boston, Mass.

TELEGRAPHIC POLITICAL.

HARRISBURG, PA.

HARRISBURG, August 23.—Governor Curtin has answered a circular of invitation to representatives in Congress, from Pennsylvania, inviting such of them as can respond to the call of the Southern loyalists, for a Convention in Philadelphia, to be present and participate in its deliberations. It is his earnest desire to have Pennsylvania represented in that body, and it is expected he will appoint Senatorial delegates.

BUFFALO, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., August 23.—Hon. A. M. Clapp, Republican Postmaster of this city, has been superseded by Joseph Condee, administration.

BANGOR, ME.

BANGOR, Me., August 23.—A mass meeting of the Democrats and others, of the Eastern and Middle counties, in favor of the principles of the Philadelphia Convention, which assembled here to-day, was less numerously attended than was anticipated, though a very respectable audience was present. Hon. R. D. Rice, of Augusta, presided. F. Woods, who was advertised to speak, did not appear. The principal speakers were Judge Rice, Senator Doolittle and Judge Parsons, of Alabama. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the paramount issue, and the issue that absorbs all others at the present time, is the immediate admission of all States to the exercise of all their rights under the Constitution, especially the right of representation in Congress.

Resolved, That the action of the late Philadelphia Convention, in its resolutions and address to the people, having in view solely the attainment of this great object, demands and should receive the united and cordial support of all patriotic men without reference to past party associations and views.

Resolved, That in our coming election, we will vote for no man for office who does not openly and avowedly indorse and support President Johnson's policy of restoration and the resolutions and address of the Philadelphia Convention.

The coalition have nominated G. M. Weston for Congress for this District. It is understood that the Bangor Postoffice is to be given to General Miller, and the Collectorship of Internal Revenue to General J. H. Butler, of Hampden. The present incumbents are to be removed for their opposition to President Johnson's policy.

The following resolutions, among others, were unanimously passed by the Union Republican Convention assembled here to-day:

Resolved, That while we are desirous that the seceding States should be readmitted to their complete rights under the Constitution, which they forfeited by their rebellion, they should be reinstated only upon such conditions as will give them an equal and just representation in Congress, secure their fidelity to the Government, and guarantee an enduring peace to the country.

Resolved, That Union Senators and Representatives in Congress deserve and will receive the gratitude of the country, for their persistent efforts to perpetuate the Union on the principle of right and justice, and that we recognize and are determined to stand by and maintain the authority of the Congress of the United States as at present organized, at all hazards and under all circumstances, and we do now and will at all times assert against Executive encroachments on the validity and binding force of its legislation.

CHOLERA IN LONDON.

Twenty-six Hundred Deaths in One Week.

The London correspondent of the Chicago Journal draws the following frightful picture of the cholera in that city. The letter is dated August 4:

The great plague which has been foretold, and for which the greatest preparations were urged, but none at all made, is fairly upon us, and, as was also prophecied, is raging most virulently in those districts where poverty and filth most abound. It would not be in my power, nor that of any writer, to convey to you an adequate idea of the condition of things in that neighborhood of Bethnal Green, Limehouse, Stepney, Shadwell, Bow, etc., just on the outskirts of this great city. But when I tell you that the total number of deaths in London last week was two thousand and six hundred (nearly double the proper average,) and that of these more than one thousand two hundred and fifty were from cholera—you may see that, at this rate, it would not take very long to decimate the entire population. The disease, of course, grows from what it feeds upon, but the statements of the last five weeks show a steady increase quite disproportionate. The first week in which the cholera made its appearance the deaths attributable to it were only 73; the second week they numbered 116; the third, 182; the fourth, 567; and during the week ending last Saturday, they had increased to 1,253. As the disease is increasing, rather than abating in its ravages, the report due next Wednesday will, it is feared, show a total of deaths quite double that of last week.

Men, women and children are dying like so many sheep, and their corpses, in many instances, rotting where they lie. Hearses are no longer in use. The dead bodies are thrown into a cart, naked, sometimes a dozen together, and thus dragged through the streets to the burial place, or else deposited under some railway arch to await their turn. So stupid and wicked, even to criminality, are the officials of Limehouse and Stepney, that they will bury only twice a week, when a pit is opened for the purpose, and you may imagine the effect in a neighborhood of three or four hundred of these corpses sweltering in their common pollution above ground, and within smell, if not sight of the common highway.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Order From General Sheridan.

NEW ORLEANS, August 23.—A general order was issued to-night by General Sheridan, revoking General Order No. 60, issued by General Baird, declaring martial law, and appointing a military Governor, but continues in force Sheridan's General Order No 15, declaring martial law to exist for the preservation of public peace and the preservation of life and property, which was the status existing before the riot.

FROM CANADA.

Movements of Troops—An Attack Confidently Expected.

OTTOWA, Thursday, August 23.—A few regular troops at this capital, left this morning for Chambly, on the Richelieu river. Ottowa is now bare of a standing force. A flying column of four batalions of troops and four guns, is to be posted near Prescott. An attack is fully expected in two or three weeks. The nolle prosequi entered in the Fenian cases, excites considerable dissatisfaction here, and distrust of the good faith of the United States Government.

NEW YORK, August 23.

RECEPTION OF THE PRESIDENT.

Mayor Hoffman received official information from Washington this afternoon that President Johnson would arrive in this city at 12:10 on Wednesday next, the 29th inst., and would accept the military reception tendered him by the First Division. He will leave at 7:45 the next morning for West Point. To-morrow the Mayor expects to receive the official programme which the President intends to follow, and arrangements for his reception will be in conformity with the features of that programme. Both branches of the Common Council will meet on Monday to take proper action in relation to giving the illustrious guest a proper reception. Action will also be taken by the merchants of this city, who will participate in the ceremonies of the reception. It is also believed that the Tammany Society, the Democratic Committees, Chamber of Commerce, and other societies and organizations will take proper action in the matter.

THE FENIAN SENATE.

A session of Fenian Senate has been called, to be held in this city next Thursday.

HEAVY ROBBERY.

A trunk containing $500,000 in securities, deposited in the vault of one of the banks of this city, it has been discovered, has been stolen. The loss is shared partly by a house in this city, and partly by a firm in Boston. No clue to the perpetrators of the robbery has been obtained.

FINANCIAL.

A Washington special says the Secretary of the Treasury will disburse nearly eighty millions in currency, in paying interest on the seven-thirties, and liquidating the temporary loan. He will not sell any gold.

FROM DETROIT.

The American Pharmaceutical Convention.

DETROIT, August 23.—The Pharmaceutical Convention met at 9 A. M. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Frederick Stearns, Detroit; Vice Presidents, Edward Parish, Philadelphia; C. H. Sargent, Chicago; John W. Sheddon, New York; Treasurer, Chas. A. Tufts, Dover, New Hampshire; Secretary, John M. Marsch, Philadelphia. Various standing committees also were elected. Several reports, interesting to the profession, were read. The subject of the tax on alcohol received special attention.

Reports of the cotton crop of the surrounding country are very unfavorable.

FROM MEXICO.

Affairs at Matamoras Quiet—General Canales, in Command

BRAZOS, SANTIAGO, August 18.—Matamoras affairs are quiet. Canales is in command. Hire Joses, and all the officers, civil and military, yesterday, gave in their adhesion to him. Carvajal remains with his family, at Brownsville. General Wallace, obtained a peremptory order from Canales, for the delivery of the arms and munitions, which have just been safely stored on the American side.

FROM BALTIMORE.

The National Labor Convention.

BALTIMORE, August 23.—In the Labor Congress, the Committee could not agree upon a newspaper organ. Resolutions were adopted urging that local Trades Unions be maintained. The meeting then elected J. C. Whaley President, several Vice Presidents, and then adjourned.

Heavy Storm.

FORT HOOD, N. S., August 23, P. M.—A very heavy storm prevailed to the eastward all day, and still continues. The land wires work very hard, which accounts for the non-reception of further European intelligence.

THE FENIANS.

Speech of General O'Neil at Buffalo.

At the pic-nic at Buffalo, which so alarmed the Canadians a few days since, General O'Neil spoke as follows:

He thanked the audience for the warm welcome extended to him. He did not regard it as an honor intended for him, but for the principles and the cause which he represented. He said he was no speech-maker—his business lay in another direction. Not long since he had an opportunity to exercise his peculiar gifts on the other side of the river, in this vicinity. With a gallant band of followers, he invaded Canada, in behalf of the cause of Irish freedom. Canada was invaded, not for the purpose of making war upon the Canadian people, but to give the Fenian army a base of operations. The campaign failed, and the failure was not attributable to the fire in front, but to the fire in the rear. But for the intervention of the power of the United States, to prevent it, there would to-day be in the Canadas more than 200,000 good and true men, marching towards the sea, in pursuit of Irish independence. Canada was invaded, not because the Fenians want that territory, but because it is the weakest point of the British Government; and but for the vigilance of the Government of the United States, success would have crowned that campaign.

He said that the Fenian force was composed of men who had fought for the United States, and that, too, in many cases, in the State of President Johnson, and he had always regarded the intervention of the Government as needlessly vigilant and severe. The President and Secretary of State, he remarked, may be against us, but the American people are with us, and when the people speak, even their rulers must remain silent. The time would come, in spite of President Johnson, when Irish liberty would be a success. This great demonstration shows it, and this is only Buffalo. Chicago, St. Louis and the whole west is moving, and the cause will be onward, until triumph crowns it, and secures to an oppressed people their freedom.

This cause is not to be abandoned. We will go on—plotting and planning and fighting until Ireland is free, and the green flag waves in triumph over Irish soil.

There is a floating population, he said, of 200,000 men in the United States who are ready to take up arms in behalf of the Irish cause. (Voices in the crowd—"What of O'Mahoney?") The General replied: I have nothing to say of O'Mahoney. His work is done, but it has not materially advanced the cause of Ireland's freedom.

Gen. O'Neill then made allusion to the fact that the President had ordered a nolle prosequi in the cases of the Fenian prisoners who were to have been tried yesterday in Buffalo, and said he was grateful for so much: but in view of what had been done to the Irish cause, he could not feel kindly toward President Johnson.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

RUSH OF PATRIOTS FOR OFFICE.

The White House and Departments are fairly besieged with parties seeking either the appointment of themselves or their friends to some office in the Capital, or at a distance, where the compensation is anywhere from a thousand dollars per annum upwards.

THE DOUGLAS MONUMENT CEREMONIES.

A number of anxious correspondents are inquiring whether they will be permitted to accompany the official train which will convey the President and his distinguished party to Chicago, but as yet they have been unable to obtain a satisfactory answer.

SECRETARY STANTON'S SUCCESSOR.

The quid nuncs are already naming the successor of Mr. Stanton; but it is not probable that the nominee will be known until officially announced by the President.

THE NEW ORLEANS RIOTS.

The publication of the evidence taken before Generals Quincy, Gregg, Bailey and Mower, at New Orleans, with reference to the recent disturbances in that city, will be laid before the public in a few days. The evidence taken on the part of the civil authorities has already been published.

THE ORIGIN OF SOAP.—A French journal has a learned article upon the subject of the origin of soap, in which the popular idea that it was first manufactured in Italy during the fifteenth century is controverted. The journal in question states that the ancient Gauls used soap, and that the Romans also did so, there being evidence of its manufacture at Pompeii. The ancients are said to have made it of olive oil and wood ashes. There is, however, as great a mystery hanging over the origin of soaps as there is over the first appearance of many other articles in common use.

CITY MATTERS.

CONCERTS IN BEAVER.—The pupils of the Normal School in Beaver, presided over by Professor Johnston, gave a series of three concerts at the close of the term, which proved very successful. The performers acquitted themselves admirably, several of them exhibiting musical talents of a high order. The closing piece at the last concert consisted of appropriate words set to the air of "Auld Lang Syne," in which different members of the school appeared on the stage and sang their verse, producing a fine effect. The farewell greetings of the scholars of the school showed how pleasantly they had passed the term together.

CORNER STONE.—The corner stone of the new Protestant Episcopal Church in Monongahela City, will be laid on Monday afternoon, September 2, by Right Rev. Dr. Kerfoot, Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, assisted by several members of the clergy. The Bishop will deliver an address on the occasion.

CORNER STONE LAYING—Owing to the inclemency of the weather last Sunday, the laying of the corner stone on the new German Catholic Church, on Troy Hill, was postponed until Sunday afternoon next, at three o'clock. The ceremonies will be performed by the Rev. M. Domenec, Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh.

SWORN IN.—Yesterday morning, in the United States Court, Judge McCandless administered the oath of office and allegiance to Gen. Thomas A. Rowley, the newly appointed Deputy United States Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

PRINCIPAL CHOSEN.—H. G. Squires, of South Pittsburgh, has been elected Principal of the Ninth Ward Public School.

THE CHIEFTAIN AFFRAY.

The Death of Harrison Murphy—Conclusion of the Coroner's Investigation.

The jury empanelled by Coroner Clawson, to inquire into the circumstances attendant upon the death of Harrison Murphy, reassembled at the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon, when the following additional evidence was taken:

TESTIMONY OF CAPT. R. R. ABRAMS.

Captain R. R. Abrams, of the Chieftain, was sworn and testified that on Wednesday evening, the 15th instant, while sitting in the cabin of the boat, was told by one of the men that there was a disturbance in the washhouse; went in and saw Robinson, Willich and Murphy quarreling; they appeared to be under the influence of liquor; took Robinson, who was most noisy, out of the room, and Willich followed; told Robinson and Willich that they must keep quiet or go ashore; Robinson said he was willing to go ashore; told him to go around to the forepart of the boat and sit down. He started to go, and witness went to see the crew take the freight off the boat. Half an hour or an hour after the first disturbance, heard another dispute in the washhouse; Robinson and Willich were standing up, and Murphy sitting on the floor with his nose bleeding slightly; a number of persons were standing around, several of whom appeared to be Murphy's acquaintance; asked Murphy if he was hurt. He replied that he was; one of his friends said he was drunk but would be all right in a short time; Robinson and Willich then stepped off the boat to the dock, supposing that Murphy was under the influence of liquor and would be taken care of by his friends, witness proceeded with his duties and went to bed about three o'clock in the morning. A number of drunken men were around the dock, who appeared anxious to fight. Next morning between eight and nine o'clock, witness got up, and was told by the clerk, that a physician had been sent for who had examined Murphy, and said there was not much the matter with him; he was lying in a deck-hand's birth. Dr. Tindle afterwards called, and pronounced Murphy seriously hurt. Witness asked the doctor if Murphy should not be sent to the Hospital; replied that he should, and he would make out a permit; a conveyance was then sent for, and Murphy taken to the Hospital.

TESTIMONY OF MR. MASON, THE CLERK.

R. C. Mason, first clerk of the Chieftain, testified that about six o'clock on the morning after the difficulty he saw Murphy lying on the washhouse floor, near the door; supposed that he was asleep and under the influence of liquor; had not heard of his being injured; called two or three of the deck hands and had him removed to the wharfboat; his head was propped up with a pile of sacks; examined him and could not find any marks of violence upon his person; afterwards heard of the difficulty, and that Murphy had been injured; proposed to send for a physician, but Murphy's friends said it was unnecessary, as he was only drunk, and that he was in the habit of getting under the influence of liquor every time he left home. Some time afterwards went to see him again, and fearing that he was injured sent for a physician.

TESTIMONY OF THE STEWARD OF THE BOAT.

John Baker, second steward on the Chieftain, testified that he was in the barber shop on the night of the difficulty. Murphy and Willich were quarreling about a hat. Willich struck Murphy twice on the head with his fist and afterwards kicked him twice; might have kicked him on the head.

There being no further witnesses to examine, the jury, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict "that the said Harrison Murphy came to his death from wounds inflicted by John Willich." A final commitment will be lodged against Willich to-day.

Outrageous Conduct.

Two young men named Ladocious Hamilton and William Allen, residents of Sewickley, resolved to have a buggy ride on Wednesday. They procured a horse and buggy, and getting on the public road, drove along at a furious gait. While going at this speed, a boy in the employ of Captain John P. Smith, ran out to the road, and supposing the horse had ran away, attempted to check it, doing so at the risk of his life. Hamilton became indignant at the boy's conduct, and jumping out of the buggy, abused him in a shameful manner, knocking him down, and kicking him about the face and head while on the ground. A son of Capt. Smith, attempted to assist the boy, but was driven away. The hired boy finally released himself and ran away. Hamilton then seized a coat belonging to Captain Smith, which was hanging on the fence, tore it in pieces, and picking up a stone hammer which the boy was using, jumped into the buggy and drove away. Capt. Smith yesterday made an information before Alderman Donaldson against Hamilton and Allen for assault and battery. He also made informations against Hamilton for malicious mischief in destroying the coat and the larceny of the hammer. Neither of the accused have yet been arrested.

Mortality in the City.

From the report of Dr. George L. McCook, Physician to the Board of Health, we learn that the interments in the city for the week ending on the 19th inst., numbered only eight, of which five were children under ten years of age. The diseases were consumption, cholera infantum, general debility, gastro enteritis, inflammation of the bowels, rheumatism and whooping cough. There was not a single interment during the week in either the German or St. Mary's Cemeteries. This is a very gratifying exhibit, particularly at a time when our citizens are fearful of the approach of an epidemic.

Public Amusements,

OPERA HOUSE.—This evening Mr. Laurence Barrett, the rising young dramatic artiste, will have a benefit, when he will appear in his favorite character of "Elliott Gray" in the romantic drama "Rosedale, or the Rifle Ball." The second representation of the play last night attracted another crowded and fashionable audience, and such, no doubt, it would draw for weeks to come. It is well put upon the stage and well enacted throughout. Mr. Barrett will be remembered this evening.

VARIETIES.—Messrs. Smythe and Aims announce to-night the last representation of the Female Minstrel Scene, embracing new songs, funny sayings, and gems of minstrelsy. The favorites, M'lle Devere, Miss Lucy Clifton and Miss Susie Summerfield, will all make their appearance this evening, as also will the entire model company.

Police Items.

BEFORE ALDERMAN STRAIN.—J. A. Miller made complaint before this magistrate against Valentine Voelker, charging him with assault and battery and surety of the peace. The parties are residents of Pitt township, and Miller alleges that Voelker struck him and used threatening language towards him. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was issued. Mary Shultz and Henry Snyder made separate informations against John Griffin for surety of the peace. They allege that they were confronted by Griffin on Pennsylvania Avenue, who drew a pistol and threatened to shoot them. A warrant was issued for his arrest. A hearing was had in the case of Harriet Harrington, charged with perjury on oath of William Loughrey, which resulted in her discharge.

BEFORE ALDERMAN MORROW.—Catharine Moore lodged complaint yesterday, before Alderman E. S. Morrow, of the Eighth Ward, against Samuel Jones, for malicious mischief. The prosecutrix resides on Fulton street, and alleges that Jones, while intoxicated, destroyed some furniture in her house. The parties are colored. A warrant was issued. J. B. Williams, Assistant Health Officer, charged Wm. Reno with maintaining a nuisance on his premises, on Pennsylvania avenue. He was fined five dollars and costs. L. Weeling, of Pennsylvania avenue, was fined five dollars and costs for maintaining a nuisance, on complaint of the same officer.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—John Beck, a workman employed at the Superior Iron Works, in McClure township, near Woods Run, was accidentally killed yesterday, while working at a furnace. The body was removed to deceased residence, on Western avenue, and the Coroner notified, who will hold an inquest this morning.

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL FOR THE Political Campaign.

The political campaign in which the electors of Pennsylvania are engaged is the most momentous in our political history—paralleled only by the military campaign which ended in the overthrow of the rebel armies. From recent startling indications it is evident that, although its military power was overthrown, the rebellion itself was not suppressed. The conflict has been renewed at the ballot-box—and happy will it be for our land if it be confined to the peaceful means placed in the hands of every elector.

The revolutionary attitude of the President, and the combinations that are forming in his support, are well calculated to excite the gravest fears and create alarm where before there was confidence in the future peace and prosperity of our rescued country. The issue no less now than when the armies of the Union and Rebellion were marshaled on the bloody field, involves the future of the Republic. On the vigilance of the loyal masses who supported the Government throughout the conflict, depends the question whether the fruits of that conflict and of the victory shall be lost or preserved.

The COMMERCIAL will fully and earnestly discuss the questions of the day, and through its ample columns will spread before the public a vast amount of carefully prepared matter, besides speeches of distinguished speakers, and documents bearing directly on the questions involved in the issue. The present circulation is unequalled and constantly increasing. The Daily issue reaches the business community of an extensive district, and the Weekly Edition has an extensive circulation among the masses. It is by the dissemination of intelligence only that the triumph of the good cause will be assured. To this end the COMMERCIAL will be furnished for the campaign at the following rates:

THE GRAVITY OF THE ISSUE.

Union Republicans should take warning that the politics of our country have thrown to the surface no combination of men with such desperate intentions as the Johnsonites, into whose embrace the Democratic party has cast itself. The President himself is a desperate, and we are forced to believe, a dangerous man. His revolutionary disposition there is no doubting. The avowals and outgivings in his recent speech to the Philadelphia Conventionists, fully prove it. Without strong moral principles, he is a man of the description of will that is leading directly to desperate expedients. He is prepared to lend himself to almost anything to carry his points. Let no man attempt to persuade himself that this is an ordinary contest, or that these are ordinary times. In solemn truth have we arrived at a pass not less critical than when, under BUCHANAN, treason first began to develop itself. This is no idle alarm. Whoever looks beneath the surface, and estimates rightly the character of the desperate man at the head of the Government, and of those around him, will come to no other conclusion. This is a contest, says the Richmond organ, "in which all the best fruits of the triumph will be ours." In other words, it is a contest in which those lately in armed rebellion against the Government, and who for four years made gigantic efforts to destroy the Republic, have great expectations of gathering "the best fruits" of triumph. And what would those "fruits" be? The payment of the rebel debt, or its repudiation together with the federal debt. The opposition of the South to the Constitutional amendments is based largely on the fact that a provision is made for the payment of the federal and the repudiation of the rebel debt. The South has no idea of paying one unless both are paid. This is one of the things which should be placed beyond contingency. It is precisely because the the Constitutional amendments do place the whole matter beyond contingency, and make absolutely certain the payment of the federal and repudiation of the rebel debt, that the proposition is so fiercely resisted by the South.

In brief, the "fruits" which the baffled rebels are expecting to gather, are those which it was thought had perished when, at the cost of half a million of lives, and three thousand millions of treasury, the rebellion was crushed and victory perched on all our banners.

At no time within the last five years has there existed greater reasons for vigilance on the part of those who desire to see this Government perpetuated, than at this moment. The dangers are real and peculiar. Let the combination entered into at Philadelphia succeed, let the desperate purposes of the President be carried out, and power transferred to the hands of those striving for it, and the national credit would go down like the mercury when the thermometer is transferred from hot to cold water. Herein are considerations which address themselves to every man who has an interest in having the public credit preserved—and who has not?—with all the force of an appeal wherein is involved the question of life or death. Let no man deceive himself as to the grave character of the issue.

THE MUSTER ROLL OF THE TIMES.

The New York Times, that seems, in its new position, bent on outstripping the World and the News in its opposition to its old Republican associates, has been making a muster-roll of the forces of the conglomerate party which it proposes to form and lead. The old veteran Republican Union Corps, it designates as "the common foe," and, under the circumstances, not inappropriately, since it stands where it has stood for six years, the foe of treason, rebellion, treachery and deception, and the friend of the Union. The Times says:

"The tone of the Northern Democratic press is, with scarcely an exception, all that the friends of the movement could desire. There is little or no fault finding, and absolutely no opposition either to the action of the convention or the policy it indicates for the fall elections."

Of course. Why should they object to a policy that they have been longing for all through the war? They were but too glad to receive, in place of the sturdy and loyal opposition that they have encountered from the administration and the Union party, the accession of a few apostate Unionists backed by all the patronage of the present President. But the Times adds:

"In the same category may be placed the no-party journals of the cities. * * * The no-party class—and they are a host in themselves—are heart and soul with the movement."

We mean no disrespect to literary or other journals which have taken no part in politics, as such are not included in the Times' statement, but political papers that were neutral and reticent when the great question was, the life or death of the Union, it was not difficult to assign to their proper place then, and it is not unjust now to rank them among the sympathisers with the rebellion. Their "heart and soul" were then what the Times declares them to be now.

"But the Southern press—what is its verdict in the premises?" asks the Times. Here, it is evident, Mr. RAYMOND found the greatest difficulty in working them in as auxiliaries, without such a palpable exposure of his own gross and unblushing tergiversation, as it is his daily effort, for a few weeks past, to avoid making. We give the result of his effort in his own words. And we leave it to our readers to decide whether it exhibits Mr. RAYMOND, late exponent of Union principles, or the Southern press, in the more humiliating light—them for accepting a position against their judgment and taste, or he for grasping at such an acceptance as an accession of strength to any honest movement:

"Here and there is a paper which reviews the proceedings with a good heart. But the greater number accept the resolutions with many protestations against the principles they affirm and the conclusions to which they point. As a matter of argument they object to the unqualified assertion of the principles of national supremacy, with the consequent extinction of the old doctrine of State rights as implied in secession. And they demur to the accuracy and taste of other points, both in the resolves and the address. In the main, however, they accept the position as the best one possible in existing circumstances."

Mr. RAYMOND and the Southern press are, in this business, in just the same category. The "good heart" of Mr. RAYMOND, that he had two months ago, "reviews the proceedings," and rejects them with indignation and contempt. So does that of the Southern press. But the greater part, with their judgment, taste and conscience against the argument, accuracy, principles and conclusions, both of the resolves and the address, "accept the position, in the main, as the best possible in existing circumstances." Magnificent adhesion of power to "the movement!"

This is just the way the bad heart of the Southern press "accepted" the position they were placed in by the breakdown of the rebellion—"with many protestations!" it was the best "possible in existing circumstances"—the circumstances in which the Republican Union power placed them. Mr. RAYMOND figured with his pen in both cases—in the one by bringing them subject to constitutional authority, and in the other by helping them to evade it.

The muster roll that is made up by the Times, will not appear very formidable to the tried veterans of the Union party. Nec talibus defensoribus—not by such defenders has the Republic been preserved, and not by such will it be. What they call "the common foe"—the true Union men—will stand by it, as they have hitherto done. The new coalition will share the fate of all other combinations against liberty and right. A "movement" that embodies such deliberate attempts at deception, that sets itself avowedly in opposition to the popular branch of the Government, that so disregards principles as, for the sake of power, to fuse all incongruous parties and opinions, and that requires the largest number of its adherents to accept its dictation against their own judgment, is not the "movement" to daunt or defeat intelligent and free Union men.

Questions and Answers.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I am a seeker after truth; and where can I go for it, but to the newspapers? Will some one answer my questions, and relieve my troubled mind?

Are there twenty six or thirty six United States of America? If only twenty-six, when did the other ten get out of the Union?

If, by going into rebellion, they escaped from the Union, how is it that Congress has reduced the Army and Navy, instead of keeping both branches up to the war standard until the rebellion has been crushed?

If the rebellion has been crushed, as we have been told, ever since Lee and Johnson surrendered, why are ten States of the Union denied representation in Congress?

Was Tennessee in the Union or out of it, when the people elected William G. Brownlow to be their Governor? If in, why were her Senators and Representatives kept out of Congress until within two or three days of the adjournment? If out, why were they admitted, even at the heel of the hunt?

By what possible process can a State get out of the Union?

In what paragraph of the Constitution is Congress vested with power to punish a State for rebellion or insurrection?

Trusting that there is some one of your readers who can answer these questions satisfactorily, I will try to be calm and await the enlightenment which is approaching; in the meantime let me suppose a case—Benjamin F. Wade or Benjamin F. Butler becomes the radical candidate for President in 1868, in the meantime Mr. Thomas Williams, Mr. James K. Moorhead and others like them, are re-elected to Congress. The Presidential election occurs in November, 1868; on the second Wednesday in February, 1869, the returns of this election are transmitted to Congress to be opened in joint meeting; the exclusionists having a majority of the meeting, count the votes of only twenty-six States, all of whom we will say, but New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and Illinois, vote for Wade or Butler, and he is proclaimed President of the United States for four years from the fourth day of March then next ensuing. Now suppose that the people who voted for Andrew Johnson (his name will do as well as any other) find, that by counting the electoral votes of all the States, Mr. Wade (or Mr. Butler) has in point of fact not been elected, but that Andrew Johnson has, what will be the necessary result? Possibly Mr. James K. Moorhead, (for whom I have voted every time he has been a candidate, whether in the Democratic, Know Nothing or Republican party,) can tell; With my imperfect vision I see in the dim future Mr. Thaddeus Stevens's proclamation (after a sleep of thirty years) re-issued, calling on the voters of his particular party to treat the election as if it had not been held, and a new "Buckshot war" on a grand and terrible scale. We in Pittsburgh who are largely interested in the prosperity and tranquility of the country, are entitled to know from all gentlemen asking our votes precisely where they stand on this question. The "hurrah boys" may be carried away by slang and balderdash, but many, I hope very many, will wish to vote so as to prevent a new scene of blood and carnage—one not confined to the South, but penetrating every portion of the country, and reducing us to a level of poor, miserable, God-forsaken Mexico.

WE answer, First: That there are thirty-six States in the Union, and that no State at any time ever got out.

Second: No State escaped out of the Union by going into rebellion, and the army and navy have been reduced by the military power of the rebellion being crushed, although its political power remains unbroken.

Third: The people of ten States are denied representation because they are deemed not to be in an attitude of loyalty to the Union. Although it is true that the military power of the rebellion was ended with the surrender of LEE and JOHNSTON, it by no means follows that we are bound to believe that the spirit of rebellion has been crushed also. And here is where the too common error into which our correspondent has fallen lies. When the rebels surrendered their arms, they did not surrender the spirit which prompted them to take them up, and until such spirit is surrendered also, and the people of those States place themselves in an attitude of unquestionable loyalty to the Union, it cannot be safe to admit them to representation in Congress to legislate for a Government they fought with unparalleled ferocity to destroy.

Fourth: Tennessee was in the Union at the time mentioned, and her Senators and Representatives were not admitted to Congress until Congress became satisfied that her people were loyally disposed.

Fifth: We know of no such power being given by the Constitution, nor do we know that any State is being punished as our correspondent seems to take for granted. If he will but substitute the word "people" for "State" he will find the difficulty under which he labors entirely removed.

Sixth: We don't think there is much of anything in the suppositious case in regard to the next Presidential election. The States now excluded did not participate in the last election, and it might, with as much propriety, be said to be irregular and void. In that case Mr. JOHNSON might as well, being a marvellous stickler for the Constitution, resign his office, and allow a better and more loyal man to occupy it.

Those who believe that the participants in the rebellion are guilty of no crime and deserving of no punishment, but, on the contrary, were entitled to all their former rights and privileges as soon as they laid down their arms, may be able to see a troublesome matter in the case suggested by our correspondent. Those who believe that the crime of the rebellion was expiated at Appomattox Court House may feel it to be their duty to champion the present rights of the rebels. Those who believe that it is sufficient to break the military power of the rebellion, and that its political power and spirit shall remain to harrass and destroy the Government, may applaud the policy of the President. But those who believe that the crime of the rebellion is the most damnable in history, and that the rebellion is not completely destroyed until the spirit which moved the rebels to take up arms against the Government is as thoroughly crushed as the power with which they employed them, have no hesitation in saying that until the Southern people show "works meet for repentance," they shall not participate in the Government they tried to destroy. The rebellion no more commenced on the 13th day of April, 1861, than it ended on the 9th day of April, 1865. It had its beginning long before the former date and has not yet ended; and until it does end by a surrender of the rebellious spirit that still animates the Southern people, we are unable to see why they should have any more right to vote for President in 1868, than they had in 1864. The loyal people want to know that the rebellion in all its parts is thoroughly ended—only that and nothing more.

Congress has not left the time when the Southern States shall resume their rights in the Union undetermined, but on the contrary has presented for the approval of all the States a series of amendments to the Constitution, which, if adopted, will secure the fruits of our victory over armed rebellion and secure the country against a repetition of the rebellion from the same quarter and for the same purpose. If the excluded States desire to return to the Union in an attitude of loyalty, let them adopt the amendments. They contain nothing more nor as much even as the loyal people who crushed the rebel armies have in reason a perfect right to demand. If those States persist in refusing they are themselves responsible for their exclusion, not Congress. If there be any doubt in regard to the counting of the electoral vote in 1869, the Southern States have it in their own power to remove it by adopting the amendments and resuming their places in the Union. If they refuse to do so, upon whom but themselves can they cast the responsibility? We see no reason why any loyal man in the North should champion the cause of the South so long as she has it in her own power to accomplish it.

HOW SINCERE!

If the pantomime of solemn silence enacted in the JOHNSON convention, were maintained by the New York Times, we should be deprived of half our satisfaction in reviewing its mute doings and of more than half our facilities for exposing its character and designs. In an apologetic argument to prove the sincerity of the Southern delegates, the Times gives us a good deal of the undertoned talk that took place in the committee green-room.

It says the clause in the slavery declaration, disowning on the part of the South any purpose or desire to have slavery re-established, was inserted as an amendment, at the suggestion of Judge YEAGER, of Mississippi. So it actually appears that the Southern delegates were not so tender on that subject as the generality of the convention were, or else that they a little overacted their parts. It also says, that they disclaimed any wish to repudiate the National Debt, and that any insinuation to that effect was an imputation on their honor, "and would be so regarded." How, we are not informed, but all the members of the Convention prudently abstained from making any such insinuation. The Times admits that they boggled a little on the soldier question and "hoped it would not be deemed necessary to compliment the courage, devotion or other soldierly qualities of the Northern men at the expense of the Southern." So very reasonable a thing, the Convention of course agreed to, and reserved their glowing love to the soldiers till after the Convention, when the Northern delegates could have free sweep for their flattery of the Union soldiers and the Southern delegates equally free scope among the rebels. Anything to keep peace in the Convention—they are all so sincere!

Yet, notwithstanding all this, the Times in an adjoining editorial of the same paper, tells us, that the Southern press—except those journals that review the Convention with a "good heart," raise many remonstrances and protestations against all that the Convention did—its arguments, its statements, its conclusions, its principles. But, then, they have "accepted" it all, the Times jovially declares. How very sincere! They don't like the head, nor the body, nor the tail of it, neither the look nor the taste nor the smell, but they swallow it all the same. How very sincere!

THE TRUTH PLAINLY TOLD.

The Richmond Times is among the foremost Southern journals supporting the new JOHNSON party, misnamed the "National Union Party." With more candor than prudence, but with a clear perception of the objects to be subserved by the new party, and speaking for the Southern secessionists, it makes the following declaration:

"This party is now fighting a great battle, and, IF IT TRIUMPHS, THE BEST FRUITS OF THE TRIUMPH WILL BE OURS."

This is the import of the language of the Southern press generally, a faithful reflex of the motives animating the Southern people, who feel sure that the success of the schemes hatched at Philadelphia, will secure to them "the best fruits" of a triumph that will be an off-set to the defeat of the rebel armies, and will redeem the cause that was then supposed to be lost. The truth was never more plainly spoken. The language discloses the expectations of those lately in rebellion against the Government, the danger to be apprehended from the new scheme, and it enforces the whole duty of the loyal people in the present contest. It shows plainly that the contest which was waged on the field of battle, though the rebel armies were beaten, was not fought out, but has been transferred to the ballot box, where, with such recruits as ANDREW JOHNSON, EDGAR COWAN, and others no less recreant, the rebels will rally as one man. Who doubts it?

SOUTHERN LOYALIST'S CONVENTION

The Southern Loyalist's Convention will meet in Philadelphia a week from Monday next. Shall the welcome extended by the State Central Committee, on behalf of the Union men of Pennsylvania, be such as to make glad the hearts and firm the purpose of these suffering but faithful Union men? This is a question to be solved by the several county Executive Committees of the State, and can be answered affirmatively if a determined and immediate effort be made. Organize delegations in every district, and send down to Philadelphia as many men as can possibly leave their business for a few days. Rebel soldiers, rebel statesmen, and rebel sympathizers generally were welcomed to Philadelphia last week, and their schemes abetted by men from every section of this State and the North. Surely, loyal Pennsylvania is able and willing to extend a more liberal welcome to those who suffered for their attachment to the Government of the Union, and to cheer them in their deliberations. The County Executive Committee, if they undertake it, can organize a large delegation of influential citizens to represent Allegheny county, and that, too, in a few days. Many prominent citizens have expressed a willingness to join a delegation, and there is no doubt that a large number, sufficient to require a special train, will respond, if the Executive Committee will issue a call. What do the Committee say?

COME UP, DEMOCRATS!

The New York Times, the central organ of the JOHNSON party, continues to labor to show that not only the Democratic party, but its platform of principles, have been abandoned, and the Baltimore Platform of the Union party and WEED and SEWARD's "National Union Party" organization substituted. In other words, the Democratic party has been dismissed, and the Democrats hitched to the tail of Mr. WEED's kite. That we do not misrepresent the Times, the reader of the following quotation, from an editorial of Wednesday, will at once perceive:

"And inasmuch as the platform adopted at Philadelphia is substantially identical with that which was adopted by the Union Party at Baltimore in 1864, it is difficult to see how any member of the party not irrevocably committed to the revolutionary crotchets of radicalism, can honestly disapprove of the proceedings of the Convention."

A GOOD NOMINATION.

The nomination of DANIEL J. MORRELL, Esqr., in the Seventeenth Congressional District, is eminently one fit to be made. Mr. MORRELL is one of the most extensive manufacturers in our country, and understands thoroughly the interests of Labor and Capital as affected by legislation. On the tariff question there are few more earnest or able advocates for protection for American industry. His personal qualities and his many undoubted qualifications will command for him an extensive influence, and open a field of usefulness in the body to which, although the district is a close one, we do not question he will be chosen.

HON GEORGE V. LAWRENCE.

The Democracy of Washington county have commenced a warfare on HON. GEO. V. LAWRENCE, as dishonorable as it is unjust. Hon. WM. MONTGOMERY, ex member of Congress from the Twenty-fourth district, in a speech of much bitterness on Tuesday, attacked Mr. LAWRENCE's record on the tariff question, and asserted that when the vote was taken on the tariff bill on its final passage in the House, on the 10th of July, Mr. LAWRENCE did not vote for it. To substantiate his charge, Mr. MONTGOMERY quoted from the COMMERCIAL the vote received by telegraph, wherein Mr. LAWRENCE, of Ohio, is recorded as having voted for the bill, and Mr. LAWRENCE's name, of Pennsylvania, does not appear. The official vote, as recorded in the Globe, shows that Mr. LAWRENCE, of Pennsylvania, did vote for the bill, and his namesake of Ohio did not, owing to the absence of the latter from Washington, he being called home by sickness in his family. If Mr. MONTGOMERY is not satisfied with this explanation, we direct his attention to the special telegram from Washington, to be found in the same number of the COMMERCIAL from which he proved the omission of Mr. LAWRENCE's name, wherein it is distinctly stated that the Pennsylvania delegation voted solid for the bill. Throughout the tariff discussion Mr. LAWRENCE stood faithfully by his constituents, and all his votes and speeches were on the right side of the question.

GENERAL GRANT.

The Johnsonites have undertaken to make capital out of the fact that General GRANT was present and stood by the President's side, when the Philadelphia Conventionists were received and the revolutionary speech made. It turns out that the General was there in obedience to the orders of the President, his superior officer. He was ready for any duty, and to make it evident that he was there on duty only, and in pursuance of orders, he took with him his staff. This, we are assured, is the only and the true explanation.

POLITICAL NEWS.

On our third page will be found the latest political intelligence, embracing lists of meetings to come off in this State and several of the counties; late nominations and items of general interest.

WE suspect the Republican party in Allegheny county—in the State, indeed—is under greater obligations to the President and Mr. COWAN in particular, than can be adequately manifested. In removing from office, untying the hands of and setting at work a small regiment of office holders, they have given an impetus to our cause it could have received in no other way. Let the work go on, say we! The labors of the regiment of emancipated workers will be of immense service to the Union party—and in no other way could they be obtained so fully or with anything like the vim and determination of which the party is reaping the benefit. Go ahead, Mr. COWAN,—hurry up, Mr. JOHNSON,—tarry not, Mr. RANDALL!

IN the list of Generals whose names are appended to the call of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention in the interest of JOHNSONISM, we do not perceive the name of FITZ JOHN PORTER, a hero whose fame and service clearly entitle him to a conspicuous recognition by the new party. The omission will doubtless be immediately corrected.

FOR UNION.—The new party is for union—no doubt of it—union with anything and everything that will give the least aid to their success. But it is not for the Union, the grand and glorious old Union, that the largest number in that party undertook to destroy.

THE CRUCIBLE.—All ingredients, no matter how various or how refractory, melt and fuse in the Convention crucible, under the glowing heat of love—love of party power and Mr. JOHNSON's patronage.

SNOBS.

Have you ever seen a gaily dressed and pretentious man, always ready to exhibit himself and boast of his possessions, vanity, ignorance and destitution of brains, being apparent in every word uttered? He is a snob. Have you seen a man, who, in some secluded place, unobserved by others, would recognize you as one well known, but who could not see you in a public place, through fear of injuring his standing in society? He is a snob. Have you seen a man who has inherited or accidentally acquired wealth, despising others who are infinitely his superior in all that constitutes true manhood? He is a snob. Have you seen a person, man or woman, ever talking about dress, parties and shows, as if these were the great objects of life? That person is a snob. Have you ever seen a man eternally boasting of his pedigree, his wealthy guests and his rich acquaintances, while everybody knows he was the child of extreme poverty? Set him down as a snob. Have you ever seen a man ready on all occasions to bore you and every one whom he meets, the first or fiftieth time, with the superior capacities, and acquirements and excellencies of himself, his wife, his children; telling you and all, for the hundredth time, all the minute details, real or imagined, of their past and future, and of his most distinguished guest, neither you or hardly any one else ever heard of? He is a snob. Quirk and Uriah Heap were snobs. The family is very ancient, very extensive, and in their own infallible opinion, very respectable, very.

Large Men.

I like to see a large man; straight, dignified, and with an air of self importance. He always bears about an air of self satisfaction and contentment. He seems impressed with the idea that a man is a man in proportion to his bulk, and most persons do regard a large man with more respect and deference than they would a small man, equal in other respects. The mass of matter is one of the elements of momentum and of power, and a large man says, "Do you dare insult a person of my size? Beware! or I will crush you to atoms!" Such persons often forget that the volume of the brain is in inverse proportion to the size of the body, and that the mind makes the man—not the quantity of matter. Size, however, contributes often very greatly to one's success. There is many a man now holding an important position in consequence of his assumed importance from his Avoirdupois. Sydney Smith speaks of men whose bodies were so small and frail that their minds were indecently exposed. There have been many distinguished men of small stature. Dana, our great scientist, says, "Enlargement without corresponding life elevation is necessarily degradation's proof of inferiority."

The Cotton Crop.

Intelligent Southern gentlemen in attendance at Philadelphia, gave it as their opinion that the cotton crop may be safely estimated at two millions of bales. It is thought in commercial quarters that a crop of two millions of bales is the extent to which the markets of the world could be supplied with our cotton without a reduction of price. It is stated from delegates who are interested in the cotton culture, that the blacks, out of the cities and towns, work very well, and may be relied upon hereafter for labor in the fields, and also that much of the crop this season is the product of white labor.

New York Politics.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes as follows:

"The Philadelphia Convention, you will observe, is beginning to bear fruit. A State Convention is called by the National Union State Central Committee, which is divided equally between Democrats and Conservatives. Among other business, it will nominate a Governor. The three most prominent candidates for the office are—Mayor Hoffman, General Dix and Senator Murphy of Brooklyn. There are indications of a refusal of the so-called Peace Democrats to indorse the Convention or support its nominees; but those who are friendly to the coalition say enough of Conservative Republican support can be got to enable them to get on without them.

"The Radical Republicans, meanwhile, are preparing for a vigorous campaign, and the shrewder of their leaders freely acknowledge that they will have to fight hard for the maintenance of their supremacy in the State this autumn. Noses have been counted on the Governorship, and there is little doubt but that Mr. Fenton will be renominated.

"As to Congressmen here in the city, I think you may put it down as morally certain that Morrissey, the pugilist that was, and the gamester that is, will obtain the Democratic nomination in the Third District, and as a nomination there is equivalent to an election, when the party votes as a unit, as it probably will in this case, John's election may be set down as a fixed fact.

"Fernando Wood and his brother Ben are likewise on the course, but it is too early to speak of their prospects as yet. The necessary combinations have not been perfected, but they soon will be. In the Eighth District there is little or no doubt of the re-election of Mr. James Brooks, if he will run."

Attempt to Assassinate Gen. Sheridan.

A New Orleans despatch dated the 22d says; A plot to assassinate General Sheridan, was discovered by the military, night before last. No arrests have yet been made, and the particulars have not been made public. We only know that the design was to accomplish his death by the explosion of a shell made for the occasion.

THE QUEEN AND THE CHOLERA.—Queen Victoria has subscribed £500 to be applied to the relief of the sufferers from cholera, most of whom, she regrets to know, are in such a position of life as to be totally unable to provide themselves with the necessary means either to ward off the disease or to support themselves under its influence.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Oregon is famous for her ship timber. A vessel has recently been constructed there which proves its quality. There is but one knot in the vessel, and that is in the main mast and is very small. The timber was selected very carefully with a view of having no knots at all in the vessel.

It would appear that the long-tailed, moon-eyed nuisances from China, which have long infested California, were about to take Oregon. They are reported to be flocking thither in herds, both by land and sea, and an effort is to be made to prevent their colonization there by means of a State law.

The Chicago Board of Health have appointed physicians to visit every emigrant train on its arrival at that city, coming over the Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, Great Eastern, and St. Louis Railroads, in order to remove every person to a hospital afflicted with a contagious disease.

"Trink-halles" have been introduced into Paris from Germany. They are designed for the sale of unintoxicating liquors. Only three kinds of drinks are allowed to be sold at these trink-halles—eau-de Seltz, pure, and the same with currant syrup, or with syrup of Seville oranges.

The Atlantic cable, from the point where it leaves Valentia Island to the spot where it was landed at Heart's Content, is precisely 1,855 miles in length. It is a queer coincidence that it should have been perfected this year.

The mooring chains which held the Tunnel Crib in Lake Erie, near Chicago, have been raised by submarine divers. The chains were valued at $2,500.

By the annual report of the Board of Education of New York city, it appears that its expenditures for last year reached the sum of $2,377,988 69. The total number of scholars is 218,084. Ten years ago the total expenses of the schools amounted to $961,885 75.

The Richmond Enquirer says that an enterprising Yankee recently succeeded in engaging about one dozen of "Mosby's men" to go North and ride tournaments. He is to foot all expenses, furnish them with fine horses, and pay them $3 a day. He boldly approached Mosby himself with a proposition, offering him first $50 a day, and gradually increasing the offer to $125, which, of course, was declined. We are curious to see the announcement of the first performance.

A joint stock building company, having a capital of two millions of dollars, has been incorporated and started at Chicago.

Boston has sent to the Paris Exposition, a complete illustration of its system for extinguishing fires.

There is now in operation 976 Freedmen's Schools, having 1,405 teachers, and 90,778 scholars. One hundred and fifty thousand freedmen are learning under the jurisdiction of General Howard.

PERSONAL.

—General Hooker is rusticating in central New New York, greatly improved in health.

—Lord James Butler, the new State Steward at Dublin Castle, is a dairyman. His carts, with his lordship's name duly emblazoned, are to be seen in Dublin, supplying customers with milk; but he won't serve any one who will not buy at least four quarts daily.

—Gottschalk is to preside at a monster musical convention in Santiago, Chile, next month.

—General Kautz, who commanded the cavalry of the Army of the James under General Butler, has written a little book, showing the specific duties of each grade from the lowest to the highest, according to the United States Army regulations.

—Queen Emma made, with her own loyal hands, one hundred percussion caps, during her visit to the ordnance room of the Washington Navy Yard.

—Humphrey Marshall is sojourning in Kentucky, and will return to New Orleans next month, in which city he has fixed his permanent residence.

—A New York dramatic critic, savagely opposing the habit of "gagging," so prevalent with actors now-a-days. He recommends when one is caught at it that the audience, by a united hiss, demonstrate their disapprobation of that custom.

—The New York Herald says Henry Morford, recently recited "an original poem written by himself." This reminds us of the Tribune's account of Senator Lane's death, in which it was stated that "he committed suicide with his own hands."

—Mr. Florimond Canda, an old and well known resident of Chicago, has received, direct from the hands of the Emperor of France, Napoleon III., a distinguished mark of consideration. This testimonial is no less than the bronze medal of Helena, conferred in consideration of the services of the recipient in the French army under Napoleon I.

—A Berlin correspondent says of King William of Prussia, that he has returned to that city and has been met by his faithful Berliners, with a reception such as might be expected from a people intoxicated with victory, and proud of the glorious achievements of its hero-King and Princes.

—Anna Bishop Schultz, the well known opera singer, was ship-wrecked on Wake Island, on the 5th of March, and came 1,400 miles in an open boat to Guam, Mariana Island, from whence she sailed for Manilla.

—William Morrison, claimed by the Montreal papers to have been the discoverer of the sources of the Mississippi river, died, last week, at his residence on Morrison's Island, near Berthier, in his 82d year.

—General Meade, has signified his intention to be present at the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the Douglas Monument, at Chicago, next month.

—The Rev. Fred. D. Huntingdon, D. D., of Boston, has declined the Episcopate of Maine, to which he was recently elected. This makes the second declension of the post. The Diocese will probably hold in covention at an early day to elect another person to fill the late Bishop Burgess's place.

Desperation of the Johnsonites.

The following dispatch from Washington to the Philadelphia Ledger fully discloses the desperation of the Johnsonities. Let Union men take warning: "I presume I violate no confidence when I inform you that the ensuing fall elections are to be carried at all hazards for the Administration party. There will be no Connecticut slip-ups, I am assured. The Executive has been informed by those in frequent converse with him that such fatal errors must not be allowed to occur in any State where they can be prevented, and there is the best possible authority for asserting that he holds the same view. His new position in cutting loose from those whose 'acts tended to perpetuate disunion and make a disruption of the States inevitable,' is said to be fully realized by him, and he feels that he can now move forward in the work of restoration, unfettered by any fear of displeasure the people at large, or any supposed abandonment of 'the party that elected him.' His declaration, as expressed at the threshold of the Fall campaign, is, 'Those who oppose me, I will oppose.'"

The United States in the Family of Nations.

A late Paris letter with discrimination remarks as follows: "The Government of the United States is to day one of the "factors" which enter largely into the problem of the world's political equilibrium. We have our necessary place in this problem, by virtue both of the moral and material forces embodied in our system of government. No nation, for instance, can possess a navy like ours, commonly supposed in Europe to be stronger in real aggressive capacity than that of any other power, without acting as a potential weight in controlling the world's political equilibrium. It is to be hoped that we shall never be called to wield this naval power in actual war with any nation of Europe, but its very existence, nevertheless, serves to create for us a position and an attitude which we could not assume before our civil war gave this new development to our navy. The impression produced by the presence of the Monadnock in the Pacific, and of the Miantonomah in the waters of Northern Europe, will sufficiently indicate the drift and the justice of these observations.

A FINANCIER AND A GENERAL.—The London Star says that a good anecdote is told at Frankfort of the interview between Baron Rothschild and General Manteuffel. In the first place, the Baron sent up his name as "Jew Rothschild," as he had heard that he was designated in certain quarters by this title. Rothschild represented to the General that the contribution demanded was excessive, and that the city could not pay it. Manteuffel answered that he could surround the city and bombard it if necessary. To this Rothschild replied: "Then I shall bombard the Bank of Prussia. I believe your Excellency can judge of the range of your rifled cannon, but not of the financial power of the house of Rothschild. You see this portfolio which I have brought with me. It contains bills for sixty millions of dollars for the Rhine Provinces and Westphalia. It is in my power to ruin the trade of those provinces."

SECRETARY OF WAR.—The Washington dispatch to the Boston Post contains the following: "Having been often misled in common with the public generally, in reference to the retirement of Secretary Stanton, the reports lately rife that he was to go out have not been hitherto alluded to in this correspondence. There can now be but little doubt, however, that his retirement from the Cabinet is about to take place. The pressure against him from all quarters has become so strong that the President could not, if he would, sustain him longer. The most prominent candidates for his successor are Generals Blair and Steedman. Mr. Blair is the most unanimously urged by Western delegations and Western influence, but Gen. Steedman is considered as most likely to receive the appointment.

TRADE IN NEW YORK, says a New York letter, is beginning to move in earnest. The dry goods dealers say the country merchants, within the past few days, have been purchasing with freedom, under the persuasion now that there is to be no further abatement in prices. Carpetings are also beginning to look up. The stocks are light and prices generally very firm. Some of the largest dealers from remote cities have arrived this week. Such of the boot and shoe houses as have regular connections with the Southwest and South are doing a steady trade. With the West there is comparatively but little doing as yet. The hardware trade is slow, but improving.

THE BOSTON CUSTOM HOUSE.—It is currently reported that further removals are about to be made at the Boston Custom House. Mr. Hamlin has not yet defined his position, but is supposed to sympathize with Congress. We understand that an attempt will be made to smoke him out, by inviting him to take the stump in Maine, in favor of the Johnson policy. Should he decline to do so, a successor may be appointed. Among those named for Collector is Deputy Collector George H. Kingsbury, formerly a lawyer of Maine, and a relation of Secretary McCulloch.—Boston Traveller.

Southern Opinions of the Philadelphia Convention.

In addition to quotations already given in our columns, we present the following from late Southern papers, showing how they regard the doings of the Philadelphia Convention. The Mobile Daily Times of the 17th inst. laments "the downfall of our sacred and legitimate hopes of independence," indulges in some sardonic pleasantry in reference to the Couch-Orr tableau, and continues:

"The necessary declaration that the war just closed has 'maintained' the authority of the Constitution and the rights of the States, is rather of a derisive nature when alongside of that declaring that this abominable outrage and public robbery—the Abolition proclamation—has eradicated slavery now and forever.

"In the same breath, the insulting declaration is made that a President, even unaided by Congress, could rob the States of their social and domestic institutions—rob them of four thousand millions worth of property, held under the sacred pledge and guarantee of the nation's honor and the Constitution of our forefathers,—and yet dare assert that the rights of the States are, were, and never shall cease to be respected!

"The national debt—not a dollar of which is held at the South, but which has been created to subsidize mercenaries to throttle our infant freedom—the national debt is pledged to be sacred and inviolate, no doubt meaning non-taxable also; while the pittance snatched from the widows and orphans of the South to help in defending the sacred soil of our homes is branded with eternal worthlessness."

The Richmond Examiner, of the 18th instant, thinks that the Philadelphia platform will do very well for the North, but "cannot see that "any regard has been paid in its construction "to the convictions and sensibilities of the "Southern people." It demands that the test oath be set aside, and talks as follows about the rebel war debt:

"Practically speaking, we have no idea that the Confederate debt will ever be paid, but it is not for us to repudiate it as invalid. The North may forbid payment; circumstances may put it out of our power ever to redeem the obligation, but it is shameful for us to say that it was not legally and morally contracted. We accept the United States debt, grievous as it is, and contracted by a profligate expenditure in the conquest of the South; but on pledges to bear our share of that will not deserve to be believed if in the same breath we repudiate another debt to which we pledged our faith with equal sincerity and much more fervor."

Of the Convention, as a whole, it has this to say:

"We recognize most cordially the conservative spirit and objects of the Convention, and we believe that the effects of its deliberations will be immensely to strengthen the great popular movement which is destined soon to overwhelm utterly the Radical faction. If it accomplishes this good end, it will not have met in vain. We have no votes, and all we can do is to look on quietly, wishing success to the conservative phalanx, but declining, at the same time, to ratify what is not true, or to reward, by ovations, our own very unprofitable servants, who have paid half-fare to Philadelphia, and done less than half work."

The Constitutional of Augusta, Georgia, is humorous and pathetic by turns, as will be seen:

"That huge fanfaronade wherewith the Philadelphia Convention was gotten under way—the footing of horns and playing of 'Dixie,' the rising of delegates and cheers for 'Hail Columbia,' the clap-trap of the Chairman, and the entrance of South Carolina and Massachusetts cheek by jowl. This latter little theatrical touch is especial is fearfully after the fashion of A. Ward, showman, and his Betsy Jane." * * * * *

"Fernando Wood, who this day can carry, if you put him on his mettle, the great city of New York against New England; and Clement L. Vallandigham, who suffered all but martyrdom for his principles, was exiled because he would not help to throttle the South, and is going to his home in Dayton, where the panels of his house door show to this very day the mark of tyranny's musket butts and ages.

"Ah! gentlemen, it will take a deal of horn-blowing to drown the sounds of those footfalls—the footfalls of men who when Doolittle and Couch had us by the throat, dared to stand up, in the very face of a despotism, to plead for mercy, for moderation, and for justice—to plead and to suffer for us and for our sakes."

The Columbus (Ga.) Daily Sun also devotes a long leader to the Convention, of the style of which the following is a fair specimen:

"We have reason to believe that many of that crowd which heralded with acclamation the lowering of the dignity of the State of South Carolina, through one of her chosen delegates and her chief Executive, but a few years ago bore through the streets of Northern cities the flaming torches of 'Wide Awake' associations, and we sadly fear that a people whose enthusiasm is excited and whose allegiance is momentarily gained by such exhibitions as Gov. Orr's, may desert their newly found friends as soon as Radical ingenuity may invent a patriotic display of flags and fire-works to catch their fickle fancies. If such things have become necessary to arouse the instincts of patriotism and justice in the Northern mind in the cast of characters for the display, the selection of the leading man from the South could have fallen upon no man who would enjoy their empty honors more than Gov. Orr, nor whose ridiculous exhibition of himself would have carried less mortification to the people at large of his section."

The New Orleans Crescent, of 16th inst., finds something to approve and more to condemn in the proceedings:

"Mr. Raymond and Mr. Weed seem to have an irrepressible horror of Vallandigham. It is a good thing to restore the Union, they think; but to restore it in company with a man who never did anything to break it up is too much for their sensitive nature. It is a fine thing to revive the Constitution, they declare; but to revive it with the assistance of a man who never violated it, is 'most intolerable, and not to be endured.'"

The Memphis Avalanche, of the 18th inst., indulges in an elaborate leader in its usual tropical style:

"The Philadelphia Convention has adjourned. We are glad of it, and sadly regret the necessity which required it to be held. When we read the proceedings we feel like asking the question, Is this the feast to which we have been invited?

"We repeat, then, that because we were defeated in the late struggle, there is no reason we should stultify ourselves and belie all our former sentiments by a repudiation of State sovereignty and secession. The South yields allegiance to the Government. She recognizes the Union as 'one and indivisible.' She neither desires or proposes secession, but there is no reason why she should repudiate the great principles which have been advocated since the formation of the Government.

"The Philadelphia Convention also passed resolutions of thanks to the Federal soldiers! What sickening, disgusting hypocrisy! What come upon the Southern delegates who supported this resolution? Did not the ghosts of our murdered heroes go before their craven souls when they offered this insult to their memories? Has the South sunk so low that she must lick the hand which chastised her?" * * * * "The banner of the Constitution and Andrew Johnson is flung to the breeze. The watch fires are kindling upon the hills, and let us form a solid phalanx, a huge army of firm and unconquerable patriots, and march to the defense of the Constitution and the Union."

TO CIDER VINEGAR MANUFACTURERS.—I desire to call the attention of Vinegar manufacturers to my "PATENTE SELF-ACTING ACIDIFIER." They can be constructed of sizes to yield from 3 up to 50 barrels, 40 gallons each, of Vinegar per week. The fermented cider is simply heated and changed into the Acidifier—it requires but little further attention until the Vinegar is completed, which will be in five to seven days. Cider Vinegar made by this process is of a much superior quality, and will keep better than when made by the old and tedious process, requiring one to two years to complete it. This Apparatus can be used as well for making Vinegar from Sorghum, Molasses, or Corn Cobs, as from Cider. No distilled spirits are required in either case. I have a large Factory in operation in this city, which I will be pleased to exhibit. All communications addressed to me will receive prompt attention. In the meantime, they will meet in their respective districts and appoint delegates to attend the organization of the club.

SOMERSET COUNTY.

A meeting of the Union men of Somerset county will be held in the borough of Somerset on Tuesday evening the 28th inst. Colonel F. Montgomery, of Mississippi, Hon. T. J. Bigham, of Pittsburgh, Hon. John Cessna, of Bedford, will be present and address the meeting. Major General John W. Geary, Hon. Simon Cameron, and other distinguished gentlemen have been invited, and are expected to be present.

Col. A. K. McClure failed to appear at Greensburg last Monday, owing to ill health. The Franklin Repository of this week makes the following explanation: Ill health prevented Mr. McClure from filling the appointments made for him to speak on the political questions of the day, in Westmoreland, Washington and other counties. It is due to him to say that the appointments were made without consulting him. He will speak in Bedford, on Monday evening, September 4th, and in Washington, Westmoreland and Beaver, some time in September.

The Democrats of Clinton county have nominated Theo. Wright for Congress and G. O. Deise for Assembly.

The Democrats of Cumberland county have nominated Hon. A. J. Glossbrenner for Congress, Philip Long for Assembly, Hugh Stuart and Thomas P. Blair for Associate Judges, J. P. Bixler for Prothonotary, Samuel Bixler for Recorder, and Jacob Dorshelmer for Register.

The "Boys in Blue" and other loyal people, held an immense gathering in Lebanon, Monday last. Governor Curtin was present, and was received with the greatest enthusiasm. He spoke for over an hour in his happiest vein, arraigning Congress, advocating the amendment, and reviewing the Wigwam Convention exhaustively. Lin Bartholomew, Esq., also spoke. The meeting was the largest of the kind ever assembled in Lebanon. After the speaking there was a beautiful torchlight procession.

A Harrisburg special to the Philadelphia Press says: It is the intention of Governor Curtin to issue a call for the Union Representatives of this State in Congress to assemble in this city on the 3d of September next, and to request Union men in those districts represented by Copperheads. Four (4) delegates at large will also be appointed.

Hon. M. Russell Thayer, of the Fifth Congressional District, has allowed the use of his name as a candidate for the vacant Judgeship of the Philadelphia Common Pleas.

THE STATE IN GENERAL.

W. Shryock, Esq., editor of the Greensburg Herald, and United States Assessor of the Twenty-first District, has heretofore been disposed to have faith in the President's allegiance to the Republican party. Mr. Shryock now comes out squarely against the President's policy, and says: That whoever else has gone or is going over into the Copperhead party, we have not landed there, and are not GOING TO. Thank God we have some principle left—some conscience—some character, thank God, which we desire to leave as a legacy to our children, if we should have nothing else for them; and if we die up we shall "fight it out" on this glorious line," and we don't care how long it takes. Just now, distinctly, once for all, that, poor or secure, the Copperhead party, and all the schemes he may be privy to, or engaged in favor of, secret machinations, have not money enough to induce us to join their ranks. We shall stand just where we stood all through the war. While Copperheads and their allies remain antagonistic to the men, the measures and the principles which sustained the Government, and put down armed rebellion, we shall fight them."

The Union Republicans of Dauphin county, on Tuesday, made the following nominations: Congress, John P. Packer, of Northumberland county, subject to the decision of conferees; Assembly, H. B. Hoffman, Jeremiah Seile; Associate Judges, M. R. Young, Isaac Mumma; Sheriff, Jacob D. Hoffman; Recorder, Private Calhoun; Commissioner, John Miller; Director of the Poor, Abraham Boyer; Auditor, Robert B. Cayley.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says: One of the Democratic orators at the Reading meeting was interrupted by a shower of rain which scattered the crowd, to say, "This is a propitious rain; it makes corn, corn makes whisky, whisky makes Democrats." And he should have added, "Democrats make rebellions, and rebellions desolate the land, drench it in blood and fill it with graves."

The Huntingdon Globe, a violent supporter of the President's policy, takes down the name of General Geary for Governor, because the latter will not stand on the Johnson platform. As one would say, the Globe's "of no consequence." Geary's majority in Huntingdon will be greater now that he has the Globe for an opponent.

Mr. Davis, who was declared one of the Union nominees for Assembly in Crawford county by the throwing out of the Titusville vote, has declined to permit his name to be used in this connection, and pledges himself to support Mr. Chase and J. Boyd Espy, the regular nominees.

The Washington Reporter, in speaking of the political prospect in that county, says: "During the past week we have had an opportunity of meeting and conversing with a number of our Union friends from different parts of the county, from all of whom we have received most satisfactory assurances that the prospect for the triumphant success of our whole ticket is most flattering. The same stern devotion to principle which characterized the loyal masses of the county during the entire struggle thus far, the friends of the Union cause are steadily moving on to the accomplishment of their high purpose, with the same faith in the right, and actuated by the same firm resolve that fired their hearts and nerved their arms in the dark days through which we have passed. The unparalleled perfidy of Andrew Johnson, instead of making any serious breach in the Union ranks, has only tended to inspire the masses of that organization to fight it out on the same line the great battle for the right and wrong, which for years has divided the country."

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Boston Traveller states that Hon. Alexander H. Rice will decline being a candidate for re-election in the Third Massachusetts District, and that a movement is on foot to nominate Wendell Phillips in his place. Mr. Phillips, it is said, is not known to have any aspirations for a seat in Congress, but the suggestion of his name has met with such favor as may induce him to enter the canvass.

When Andrew Johnson was on his way to Washington to take the office of Vice President, he is represented to have said in Louisville that he did not give much for Kentucky loyalty, because there were very few loyal men in the State. In the Mosaic period of his history, he used to state facts.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says, when Mr. Lincoln was candidate for re-election in 1864, Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, was anxious for him to withdraw, and for Johnson to take his place who had nerve enough to punish traitors according to their deserts. At a very small meetings were held with a view to effect this arrangement. In one of his speeches Mr. Campbell said Andrew Johnson was his choice for President. The objection to Mr. Lincoln was his kind and merciful nature; the righteous severity with which Mr. Johnson would punish traitors was the prominent consideration in his mind. Now Mr. C. finds Mr. Johnson what he said him to be? I imagine not; yet he admires him. Mr. Campbell was a delegate from Ohio in the Philadelphia Convention. But as Mr. Campbell's Convention in 1864 turn the people in Ohio from him, he will not in 1866 turn them from Congress. He has a Republican majority in Congress. He has been encouragement to try, as all the Ohio Democrats and religious, which were for him are for Congress.

COURTS.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—Yesterday morning in the United States District Court, Hon. Wilson McCandless delivered an important opinion in the case of the United States vs. The Distillery of Jacob Hays. The distillery was seized over a year ago, on account of the proprietor having failed to make proper returns under the revenue law. After the distillery had been seized and the libel filed, the proprietor died, and the question whether that circumstance did not abate the writ, was made. The case was argued on the 4th inst., by District Attorney R. B. Carnahan for the United States, and W. S. Purviance, Esq., in behalf of the claimants. Judge McCandless yesterday delivered the following opinion:

"As the pleadings and proofs in this case exhibit a palpable evasion and violation of the Internal Revenue laws, the only question raised at the argument was whether the death of Jacob Hays, since the seizure and libel, abates the writ.

The act of Congress provides that to enforce a forfeiture the proceedings should be in rem. The process is not so much against the party as the offending property. Like the deodand of the ancient English law, the guilty chattel, which was the instrument in the commission of the offense, was forfeited to the King. All the legal measures taken, are after the practice of a Court of Admiralty, and the definitive sentence and decree of the Court is leveled at the thing seized, the same as if it was a vessel navigating the Western waters of the high seas. The sixty-eighth section of the act of '64 declares that for such neglect the owner shall forfeit not only the spirits made by him, but all the vessels, stills, boilers, &c., used by him in the distillation, together with a penalty of five hundred dollars. And further, that the proceedings to inforce the forfeiture of said property, shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, in the Circuit or District Court of the United States. The death of the party, therefore, cannot impair or loosen the grasp which the officers of the Government have upon the property seized. It remains intact, and, in the language of the act, is to be "held until a decision shall be had thereon according to law."

Independent of this, the case of Pennallow vs. Doane's Administrators, 3 Dallas 118, rules the point. The Supreme Court of the United States there say that a suit in rem does not abate by the death of the party. The opinion of the Court is with the United States, and a decree is ordered according to the prayer of the libel.

On motion of the District Attorney, judgments were entered against T. C. Uniechill, Wm. H. Dougherty and Franklin S. Northrop, for the sum of one thousand dollars, for failures in making returns to the Revenue Collector of the Twentieth District, of oil exported by them.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, Judge McCandless presiding, on motion of District Attorney, R. B. Carnahan, judgments were ordered to be entered against the defendants in the following cases, for failing to make returns of oil exported by them, as required under the revenue law: United States vs Joseph Ingels et al.; United States vs. C. C. Pease, et al.; United States vs R. B. Morris, et al.; United States vs. Charles J. Gilbert, et al.; two judgments against John Laney.

Fire in Plum Township—Oil Refinery Destroyed

Yesterday morning, about one o'clock, a fire occurred at the Oriental Oil Refinery, owned by Messrs. Kerr & Jones, located at Springdale, Plum township, and near Johnston Station on the Allegheny Valley Railroad. The building was a three-story frame, but not very extensive. The fire was occasioned by the explosion of a still, and made a terrific noise. The flames spread and communicated to the main building. The fire burned rapidly, and in a short time it was a mass of ruins. The building did not contain over forty barrels of oil, which, of course, was destroyed. The works were insured for six thousand dollars in the Lycoming Mutual Insurance Company, which may probably cover the loss.

One of the night watchmen at the works made a narrow escape. He slept in one end of the buildings immediately next to the still house, and had just got out of the building to go on duty, when the still exploded. Had he been sleeping in his room at the time of the explosion, he might have been burned to death, as the explosion scattered the fire in every direction.

Alleged Perjury.

Henry Hershberger yesterday, appeared at the office of Alderman John A. Strain, of the Tenth ward, and made an information against Elizabeth Wagner, charging her with perjury. In his information, Hershberger alleges that "in Collins township, on the 1st of August, the defendant did falsely, willfully, knowingly, and corruptly testify in a certain suit then pending before Thomas Davidson, Justice of the Peace, wherein this deponent was plaintiff, and Adolph Frazier was defendant, that she was present when Frazier rented certain property to this deponent, and that said Frazier was to have use of the stable of deponent until he built one, and that there was no limited time mentioned;" said testimony was material to the issue of the suit, and was all false and untrue." The accused was arrested and held in the sum of one thousand dollars bail for a hearing on Tuesday next.

Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

The trustees and faculty of the above Medical College have issued "scholarships" at Seventy-five dollars each, which entitle the holder to attend lectures until graduation, or as many sessions as he wishes.

This renders a medical education cheaper than ever proposed by any University or College in this country or Europe, possessing the same extensive facilities.

There are sixteen Professors, and every branch of Medicine and Surgery is thoroughly taught.

The student holding a "scholarship" can enter the college at any time during the Lectures, attend as long as he wishes, and re-enter the Institution as frequently as desired.

Persons wishing to obtain scholarships can apply to L. Oldshue, M. D. Professor of Urino-Pathology in the above mentioned College. His office and residence is No. 132 Grant street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Fire Alarm Telegraph.

Mr. Hill, the agent of Messrs. Kennard & Co., who were awarded the contract for the erection of the fire alarm telegraph, arrived in the city yesterday, and announces that the work will be commenced on Monday, and will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is probable that the telegraph will be completed and in operation within the next six weeks. The contract for the erection of the tower in the Court House lot, upon which the large bell cast by Messrs. A. Fulton & Co. is to be placed, will probably be awarded to-day.

ARREST OF A FUGITIVE.—A man named Abram Thatcher was arrested at the Union Depot, on Liberty street, yesterday, by officers Barry and Busha, on a charge of stealing a quantity of clothing and two revolvers from Charles H. Billings, a barkeeper at a hotel in Altoona. Mr. Billings who was notified by telegraph of the arrest, appeared in the city yesterday, and left last evening for Altoona having the prisoner in charge.

ALLEGED LARCENY.—A telegraphic dispatch was received by Chief of Police Hague, yesterday, from Meadville, stating that a German named Franz Mitchell, had stolen a coat from a resident of that place, and had fled to this city. Officer Busha was detailed to work up the case, and after considerable search, discovered the accused in a beer hall in the Fifth ward, when he arrested him and took him to the Mayor's office. The stolen coat has been recovered.

MORE SUITS ENTERED.—Mr. Dilworth, Assistant Street Commissioner of Allegheny, yesterday preferred suits before Alderman Lindsay against ten residents of that city for maintaining nuisances on their premises. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

DAM REPAIRED.—The repairs to Dam No. 2 have been completed, and the Monongahela packets will hereafter run regularly, morning and evening, leaving their respective wharfs in this city.

A SPECIFIC FOR THROAT DISEASES.—"My communication with the world is very much enlarged by the Lozenge which I now carry always in my pocket; that trouble in my throat (for which the 'Troches' are a specific) having made me often a mere whisperer.

N. P. WILLIS.

For a Cough, Cold, an Irritation or Soreness of the Throat, Brown's Bronchial Troches will often give instant relief. mw&f d&w.

SPECIAL CAUTION.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY, August 23—P. M.

Gold was firmer to-day and exceedingly scarce, and at 2 P. M. was quoted at 150, indicating a slow but steady advance. It is entirely controlled by a clique, and when they have worked it up as high as possible they will no doubt avail themselves of the first movement of the Secretary of the Treasury in selling the Government gold to create a panic and run down the premium so low that he will be compelled to stop selling. The true remedy is for the Secretary to sell the gold on hand, and keep no more than is absolutely necessary for the interest that is payable in coin.

The New York quotations this morning were: Gold, 149⅞; Eighty-Ones, 111¼; Five-Twenties, 110; Ten-Forties, 101¾; Seven-Thirties, 105¼; Michigan Southern, 85½; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 87¾; Fort Wayne, 104⅝; Erie, 73¼; Western Union Telegraph, 58; Bennehoff (oil) 6½; Pithole, 1½; United States, 7¾; Gregory; (gold) 19¾; Quartz Hill, 4½; Parmalee, 9.

—The local stock market is totally devoid of transactions to-day. Even Columbia (oil), which has of late been showing some symptoms of activity, is neglected. Some holders of small lots of the M. and M. National Bank want purchasers, but the price is beyond their views.

—It is insinuated in some quarters that the Secretary of the Treasury does not consider the Government bound to redeem its 5 20 securities in coin, and that he will govern himself by the strict letter of the law, and pay only the interest in specie. But there is no reason to believe that Mr. McCulloch entertains any such views from anything he has said on the subject. On the contrary, it has been stated that he has lately given unqualified assurance that he holds to the opinion of Mr. Chase, under whose administration the bonds were issued, and who has declared that it has always been the custom of the department to redeem all coupon and registered bonds forming part of the funded or permanent debt of the United States in coin. This averment of Mr. Chase was received at the time as conclusive, and by all of the more intelligent dealers in and holders of the bonds has been considered as removing all doubt on the question; and there is now no good reason that we are aware of to regard it as an open one.

—The market for copper stock shares improves in tone, and to day presented a healthier aspect than on any day during the week. There was an absence of the feverish excitement noticeable a week ago, but the bidding was strong on the entire list, and all lots offered at the quotations were taken. Franklin was strong, opening at 63, and closing at the opening board at 67, an advance of 4 from the opening price. The continued advance and remarkable strength of the Franklin fully demonstrates the power of the combination, which, it is hinted by a contemporary, is backed by a wealthy German house in New York. Pewabic tends upward, closing at the first board at 40½ bid, an advance of 1½ and selling at the open board up to 40¾. Huron firm; sales at 45, closing at 45½ bid. Higher prices in this stock may be looked for, the new machinery being now at work, with the prospect of a large increase in the product for this month. Hancock was stronger, closing at 30 bid with stock offering. Copper Falls was in good request at 45½, at which rate sales were made. Quincy was steady at 48 with a sale of only 5 shares, and with little stock offering. If other influences at present keep down the price of the Quincy the monthly product should be sufficient to keep up its reputation. The product for July was 120 tons, 100 lbs, and for June was 115 tons. Astor continues to be in request, selling to-day at 3¼, seller 30. Its local habitation and its name are both suggestive of richness. Washington—another name suggestive of good qualities, was steady, selling at 1⅞. Pittsburgh, Petherick, Hungarian and Isle Royal were also steady at about previous quotations.—Boston Post, Wednesday.

—The London Daily News, of August 6, has the following pertinent remarks on the condition of English finances:

It is useless to disguise the fact that the financial position of the country is becoming every day more critical. It is now nearly three months that the bank rate has been maintained at 10 per cent., and, to judge from the reasoning adopted by the apologists of the directors, there seems little or no chance of an alleviation for some time to come. It is fortunate that the past crisis visited us when trade was generally sound, and when the realization of large profits, from the revival of commerce with America, afforded exceptional means to meet the disaster. But it is impossible not to see that the limit is nearly, if not altogether, reached. No trade in the world can withstand the continued lapse of credit, and the trade of England less than any. For a time the burden may be borne, but the end is sure. Many signs prove that we are on the verge of widespread commercial distress. We may, perhaps, have no great sensational failures, with liabilities figuring for millions; but the havoc will probably be chiefly among the second and third class traders.

—The Philadelphia Ledger says a fifty dollar counterfeit plate of the National currency, together with some $60,000 of bogus greenbacks, supposed to have been printed therefrom, has just been captured in that city, by Col. Wood, Chief of the Secret Service Division of the U. S. Treasury Department. Beyond the fact that the parties implicated are under arrest, further particulars, at this time, for obvious reasons, are withheld.

—The directors of the Clarion and Allegheny River Oil Company have declared a dividend of five per cent. per share, payable on and after September 1st.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

Business yesterday was dull. Dealers manifest no disposition to purchase to any extent. They don't appear to have much faith in the present prices. The purchasers are regulated accordingly. Our market contains an ample supply of the leading articles, in fact there is enough and to spare. The weather continues very pleasant. The heated term appears to have departed, at least for the season. Our rivers are down to a very low water mark, only light draught steamers attempt to run. The Parkersburg Packet Line are making a large effort to accommodate the business public. Produce—The market contains an ample supply of what comes and the this week. Prices have been irregular for some time, on account of the supply exceeding the demand. Flour—We continue to notice a steady demand, and firmness among holders. The receipts since our last were very light, only reaching 501 bbls by rail. The stock in the market is not large. Bacon was very firm. The same will apply to all salt meats. The present stock will soon be exhausted, unless replenished. Groceries were very firm, with a good jobbing demand. Our large dealers have a fair supply on hand. Butter—The market was not very active. Prices unchanged. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

LIME—The demand is improving. Sales 75 bbls prime white at $2 00 ₰ bbl.

LEAD—The market has been active. We note further sales at 11½@12c for Galena. The week's sales have been large.

CHEESE—Holders yesterday exhibited increased firmness. Among the sales were the following: Hamburg—46 bxs choice at 17c; Western Reserve—30 do at 16@16½c; some were holding out for 18c; Goshen, 20½@21c.

POTATOES—The market continues to be well supplied. Dealers, however, were disposed to regulate their purchases to lots to supply their present wants. Prices were somewhat irregular, ranging from $2 25@2 75 ₰ bbl for Neshannocks. Sales were made by the bushel at 75@80c.

FEED—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. The demand was fair, and sales were regular for jobbing purposes. The current rates were: Middlings $1 60@1 75 ₰ 100 lbs; Bran, 95c@$1 00; Seconds, $1 25@1 30, as per quality.

SWEET POTATOES—The offerings of Eastern Sweets so far have been limited, the prices being steep. A few lots of Jersey were disposed of at $9 50@10 00 ₰ bbl. These prices do not leave much margin for retailers.

EGGS—The receipts have fallen off. Holders were asking for an advance. Sales 12 bbls at 18@20c.

BUTTER—The market yesterday was inactive, and the rates were limited. Sales 8 bbls fresh Roll at 30c; 14 do. prices ranging from 26 to 28c; Keg was nominal, and sold at various prices.

ASHES—The market remains firm, with a good trade demand; in fact the sales for this market have been larger than usual. Soda Ash—Sales of Common at 6@6½c; Refined do. 6½c. Pearls—Sales 6 tons, to the trade, at 15c.

GRAIN—Increasing firmness has taken place in the grain market, particularly as relates to certain descriptions. Wheat was decidedly the leading article. The new crop is arriving slowly, and commands good prices. The rates yesterday were, amber No 1, $2 60; new crop winter, same figures; sales of spring at $2 30 per bushel. Rye—The market was inactive and sales were made at 91@93c. Corn—Not much doing. The last sale we reported was at 77@78c per bushel. Oats—The receipts have largely increased by rail.

FLOUR—The market continues to rule very firm with a steady jobbing demand. The receipts by rail are increasing, yesterday they exceeded 1,300 barrels. The current rates were: Extra family winter wheat, $12 50, 13 00@13 25, according to the favor of the brand, and rates of spring wheat, $11@11 50 per barrel. The advantages of the market were evidently on the side of holders.

BACON—We have to notice a firm market with a good trade demand; the stock on hand being light, former prices were well maintained: Shoulders, 17½@17¾c; ribbed sides, 19½@20c; sugar cured hams, 26c.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

The market was again inactive, with a moderate demand only. The rates are above the views of buyers. Refiners are not disposed to enter the market at the present rates. On the other hand, holders of crude manifest no disposition to accept lower prices. Our latest from Oil City reports the market steady, with sales at the mouth at $4 75 per barrel. The river receipts were 1,648 barrels. The sales during the same period were 1,320 barrels. The rates were, for bulk, and without packages, 16c. Buyers were offering 15½c freely. Holders would not listen to these figures. The present light stock on hand operates to the advantage of holders, besides, there is no prospect of a rise of water in the Allegheny. Some dealers are not offering their stocks, and seem indifferent about contracting for future delivery. The sales were, 200 barrels without packages, 16c; 300 barrels bulk, 16c; 350 barrels do. including barrels, 20c; and one lot of 500 barrels, terms withheld.

REFINED OIL—The market was steady, but not very active. There was a fair demand for present delivery, but a falling off for future months. Most of the refiners have sufficient orders on hand to last for some time, besides they will make no new contracts until they have secured the raw material. In the absence of sales, we give the nominal asking rates, viz: Bonded, August delivery, Philadelphia, 44c, some dealers ask 44½c; September, 44½@45c, and the other months in the same proportion.

PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

EAST LIBERTY, August 23, 1866.

Reported for the Pittsburgh Commercial.

CATTLE—The market was well supplied since our last issue with stock. The sales were the largest we have noted for some weeks. Buyers appeared numerous, and entered the market with spirit. ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

ALLEGHENY CITY, August 23, 1866.

CATTLE—The market since our last was dull and inactive, with more sellers than buyers, the latter holding out for a decline in prices. The offerings were below those of last week several hundred head. Prices were pretty much the same, although one lot of inferior sold at 3½; this, however, must not be taken as a fair criterion. The other extremes were $5 50@8 62 last week's extremes were $4 50@8 75. As a general thing good stock will always command a fair price. At the close several lots remained in want of purchasers; the entire sales since our last were 820 head.

HOGS—There was nothing done in this article worthy of notice; a few head only were required to meet the wants of the local trade. The nominal rates were at $10 00@11 00 per cwt.

SHEEP—The market contained a large supply of Sheep for the yards, as the bulk of the business has been transacted at the other yards. Several hundred head were disposed of at a variety of prices. The extremes were $4 75@6 00 gross. The principal portion of the sales were between those figures.

LAMBS—Were in fair demand. A few head were disposed of at prices ranging from $1 60 to 3 00@3 50 ₰ head. Pretty much all the offerings were disposed of.

New York Iron and Petroleum Markets.

August 22—Iron—The demand for Scotch pig, says the Commercial List, continues quite moderate, and we only notice sales of 200@300 tons Glengarnock and Coltness, in lots from yard, at $48 00@49 00; 100 do. Eglinton $46 00, on ship; 100 do. same brand, $47 from yard; 100 do. Glengarnock, to arrive $46 50; and 50 do. here, on private terms. American is still scarce, but offered at $48 00 for No. 1 for future delivery; 100 tons No. 1 sold at $49 00; 50 do. No. 2 ex, $48; and 400 do No. 2, ex, to arrive, at $45. Scotch Rails, we only did not learn. There is a little more inquiry for bar iron at our old rates. There are some invoices of English, but it is difficult to effect sales, dealers being pretty well supplied.

Petroleum—The same authority says: The market for crude has been considerably excited since our last, in consequence of the destruction, by fire, of a considerable quantity (say 10,000 to 15,000 bbls) and as high as 30c has been paid for some small parcels; but yesterday, the market was weaker, and sales were made at 28@29c, for 40a47 gravity, packages returned; we quote at the close nominally 28c for 40a47 gravity in bbls. The sales are 700 bbls at 27a30c, including high and low gravity; 5000a6000 do. in bulk, 20a22c; 1500 do. 40a47 gravity, f August, 29c, pkg. returned; 500 do 40a45 gravity, for September 29c, s. o., last half. Refined, in bond, is in fair demand, but with a light stock holders are firm, and the market closes strong at 43½a44c for prime L S to W and 45c for S W; sales 750 bbls at 38c for L S, 41c for L S to W and 43½c for prime L S to W; 5000 gallons in tins, 5000 gallons in tin 55c; 1000 bbls prime L S to W, for September, 41½, B and S O; 10,000 do to W, 45½a45¾c, B O, at 1000 do, S W, for October, 46½c, B and S O. Free is quiet: 200 bbls S sold at 58a59c; and 50 bbls Residuum brought $5. Naptha is quiet but steady at 30a45c.

The receipts since January 1st were 621,676 bbls, against 317,616 bbls same time last year.

Wool Markets.

The Commercial List says: The market remains inactive, but prices have undergone no further change, either as regards Foreign or Domestic. Holders seem to think prices are about at the lowest ebb and an increased demand is confidently looked for as soon as an active trade in the Woolen goods market sets in. The stock of manufactures is large, and until supplies are reduced somewhat, manufacturers are not disposed to stock up with wool. The sales include 81,000 lbs of State and Western Fleece at 50a62½c for poor to good grades, and 67a70c for choice or XX; 20,000 lbs Tubbed, 53½a55c; 55,000 lbs Texas, 25a28c, and a small lot of Georgia, 33c. The movement in Foreign is extremely light; the last sales include 125 bales South American (B. A.) at 40c, and about 300 do. Cape, in lots, 23½a26½c gold.

Boston—The circular of Erickson reports the movements of wool in the Boston market, for some weeks past, as follows:

	Taken by Manufacturers, &c.	Receipts, 1866.	Receipts, 1865.
Week ending Aug 3	lb. 450,000	3,050,000	1,350,000
do do 10	1,000,000	3,850,000	1,703,000
do do 17	525,000	1,500,000	1,900,000

With regard to manufactures, the same authority says: A little more general activity is noticeable in woolen goods. Jobbers particularly having been selling more freely; but prices rule extremely low, and pay little or no profit to the manufacturer. The season is, however believed to be near at hand for a more active and satisfactory trade in this line.

Cincinnati Provision and Tobacco Markets.

August 22.—The provision market is firm, without much activity. Mess pork sold to a small extent at $33 for extent delivery, and to a liberal extent at $32 for future delivery on conditions that were about equal to cash, perhaps better than cash to some sellers.

Bulk shoulders are held at 15c loose, though they have been sold at 15¼c packed. Bulk sides are quoted at 17c; clear sides at 19½c.

Bacon shoulders sold at 17c. Bacon sides are hardly to be had at less than 19½c; clear are mostly held at 21½c.

Louisville Provision and Tobacco Markets.

August 22—Provisions and Lard—The market is firm, with an upward tendency. Sales of 2,000 bbls of mess pork at $33. Bacon active and firm. Sales of 10 casks shoulders at 17c; 20 do. at 17¼c; 25 do. at 17¼c, 25,000 lbs do. at 17¼c; 10 do. clear sides, 21¼c, with offers of small lots at 21¼c. Lard steady; tierces 21c, kegs 23½c.

Tobacco—Prices are well maintained for all grades. Offered, 123 hhds, with 9 rejections. Sales were 10 hhds at $3 80a3 95; 28 at $4 05a5 95; 11 at $6 00a6 75; 5 at $7 15a7 95; 7 at $8a8 90; 3 at $9 80a9 70; 7 at $10 25a10 75; 2 at $11; 6 at $12a12 50; 6 at $13a13 50; 6 at $14a14 75; 6 at $15a15 75; 3 at $16a16 75; 3 at $17 25a17 50; 2 at $18 50a22; 2 at $26a40, and 1 at $63.

Philadelphia Iron and Petroleum Markets.

August 22.—Pig metal is more inquired after at full rates. Sales of 300 tons No. 1 Anthracite at $47 and No. 2 at $45 ₰ ton. Scotch pig moves slowly at $50. Blooms are unchanged. We quote charcoal at $90a100. Manufactured iron is not much inquired after, but holders are firm in their views.

Petroleum is in better demand, and prices are rather firmer. Small lots of crude are reported at 25a26c; 4,000 bbls refined, in bond, at 43a43½c, and 500 bbls free at 58a61c ₰ gallon, according to quality.—North American.

English Manufactured Goods Import.

The following is a comparative table showing the total shipment of manufactured goods from England to the United States, for the first six months of 1866:

	1864.	1865.	1866.
Cotton fabrics......yards	47,958,809	24,202,217	69,867,008
Woolen fabrics	4,661,153	1,110,954	3,114,785
Worsted fabrics	35,352,220	21,573,680	42,466,312
Carpets fabrics	1,384,569	462,283	2,237,755
Shawls and Rugs...No.	164,305	36,802	85,865

It will be seen that the six months' business shows a very large general gain on both the preceding years.

New Bedford Oil Market, for the Week Ending August 20.

Sperm Oil—The market remains quiet. We have no sales to report in this market. In Boston, two parcels amounting to 110 bbls, were resold for export at $2 08, and 400 do for manufacturing on private terms.

Whale Oil—The market is firm with some inquiry. The only sale is a parcel of 140 bbls Humpback and Blackfish, on private terms. In Boston, 249 bbls Humpback, sold for manufacturing, also on private terms.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 150 1-2.

Special Dispatch to Western Press.

NEW YORK, August 23, 1866.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The demand for money was less active to-day, and the market was easier. Call loans ranged generally from 4 to 5 per cent, but some of the Government bankers are still getting all the money they want at 4 per cent.

THE GOLD MARKET

Touched 151 at one time this afternoon, but afterwards receded to 150⅜, and then recovered again to 150½. The present corner in cash gold is the most severe one ever known in the gold room, as may be judged from the fact that just previous to the close of delivery hours, one per cent. was paid for the use of it until to-morrow.

THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET

Is extremely dull.

THE GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

Were in better demand towards the close of the day, and there was a general improvement from the lowest point. The following were the closing prices: 5-20s, 1865, 107⅞a108; 10 40 coupons, 101¾a101⅞; August 7-30s, 105¾a106.

STOCKS.

The greatest advance has been on Erie, Illinois Central, Rock Island and Pittsburgh. Michigan Southern is very firm, and being absorbed by strong parties. At the last call there was considerable excitement on Erie in the long room, and the prices advanced to 74⅜. The balance of the market was firm and without much charge. The bull interest is in the ascendant once more and the tendency of prices upward. The disbursements in future by the Treasury Department will no doubt tend to further stimulate the present speculation for a rise.

PETROLEUM STOCKS.

Pithole Creek, 1 75; Shade River, B 33, 27; United States, 7 80.

MINING STOCKS.

Grinnell Gold, s. 3., 10; Liebig, 60; Montana, 25.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 23—Money active and steady at 5a6 per cent. Sterling dull and heavy at 107a107¼. Gold active and firmer, opening at 150⅜, declining to 149⅝, advancing to 151, and closing at 150¼. Governments are lower. Freights to Liverpool quiet. Stocks quiet; Alton and Terre Haute, 40; do preferred, 70¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 104⅝; Northwestern, 36⅛; do preferred, 66¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 86⅝; Rock Island, 109¾; Illinois Central, 123¾; Michigan Southern, 85¾; Michigan Central, 113¼; Erie, 73¼; New York Central, 104½; Reading, 113⅝; 5-20 coupons 1862, 110; 7 30s, first series, 106, do second do, 105¾; do third do, 105¼.

The Commercial's money article says: The stock market to-day exhibited more strength and it was generally higher. Governments were weaker. The money market was without material change. The demand for large loans for the purchase of gold has temporarily checked the downward tendency arising out of the abundance of money on account of the temporary lien, and a good deal of money is lent at 5 per cent. First class borrowers, however, can get all they want at 4 per cent. Discounts show a steady increase of activity, with rather more firmness in rates. The extreme rates for prime bills are 5a6½ per cent. Transactions in foreign exchanges are checked by the unsettled condition of the Gold market and rates are still weak. Importers hold off from remitting in expectation of a decline in the gold premium. Good bankers 60 days sterling bills are negotiated at 106⅞a107; but for prime names the rate is 107a107¼. The gold market shows continued firmness. The Bull clique appears to have got the market completely in their hands, as they refuse to lend is leaving other holders to get ¼ per cent per day upon loans. It is understood to be the policy to run up the premium.

The Post's money article says: Gold is excited and scarce, ¼ to 1 per cent. having been paid for loans. The premium has been as high as 151⅛. The loan market is fairly active at 4 per cent. to some transactions at 6. The flow of currency to the West continues, and has some influence in stimulating activity in money. Discounts continue to be wanted, but is gradually increasing. Good bills pass at 5a6¼. The stock market is dull. Governments are lower. Railroads shares are strong. Eastern, Reading, Rock Island and Northwestern are attracting chief attention. Before the first regular session, Erie was quoted at 73⅜; Michigan Southern 85¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh 87⅝. After the board the market was firm for Railroad shares and dull for Governments. At 4:30 P. M. the market was irregular, gold being strong. Governments quiet, and Railroad shares firm, but dull. Foreign Exchange dropped during the day, at 60 days on London is quoted at 108⅛a108¼ for commercial, 107⅞ for Bankers—do short sight, 109a109½.

NEW YORK, August 23.—At the last open board to-day the following were the prices: Canton, 58; New York Central, 104½; Erie, 73¼; Western Union Telegraph, 58¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 86⅞; Rock Island, 109¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 36½; Illinois Central, 123¾; Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne, 104⅝; do preferred, 67⅛; Mississippi and Ohio, first preferred, dividend 42; do second preferred, dividend 21. Gold closed at 150½. Governments are better. The demand for money is less active, and the market is easier.

Parties in Marietta have purchased the steamer W. F. Curtis.

Captain John N. Shunk informs us that not a single case of sickness on the Kate Robinson on her upward trip from Memphis. She arrived last night.

We regret to announce that Captain Ovid C. Williamson died at his residence in this city last night, of congestion of the brain. Captain Williamson has been connected with steamboating on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers during the past twenty five years, as clerk and captain. We remember the deceased as clerk and commander of the old Yorktown, Susquehanna, Mediator and Emerald. The New York was the last steamer he commanded.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., August 21.—There is three feet in the pass over the falls, and on a stand. The Rose Hambleton passed up. The towboat Sam. Roberts came down and returned.

Louisville.

August 21.—We condense the following from the Courier:

The river was rising fast yesterday, with 4 feet 5 inches in the canal last evening at dusk by the mark. During the previous 24 hours the river had risen one foot at the head of the falls, and fully three feet at Portland. This is a good rise, and a great improvement to the navigation below the falls. The weather was cool and clear all day, the thermometer down to 72 at noon.

On the falls there were two feet five inches water in the pass down the Indiana chute, and the river still rising. The rise at the foot of the falls has been fully four feet altogether, which will greatly improve the channel depth of the Lower Ohio where navigation had got to be very much restricted.

The Adam Jacobs, from St. Louis, lost several of her crew by cholera, including Wm. Stanley, second mate, and John McCoy, deckhand.

Cairo.

August 21.—Our port list is as follows: Fort Smith, Pittsburgh to Arkansas river; Cumberland, Johnsonville and return; Stella, New Orleans to Louisville; Charmer, Evansville and return. The Fort Smith passed without landing. She appeared to have a fair trip of bagging and assorted freight. The Cumberland and Stella were light. The Stella had four empty coal barges. The river rose five inches to-day. Weather cloudy.

St. Louis.

August 18, P. M.—We condense the following from the Democrat:

The river continues rising, with seven feet reported to Keokuk, eight feet to Cairo, and a good navigable stage to St. Paul. The Illinois is stationary, with 5 feet in the channel. Business on the river is really dull, and will continue so, no doubt, for a few weeks. Travel is pretty good in some directions, for instance, the Keokuk packet arriving Sunday morning, had 50 passengers on board.

The Illinois boats and barges had as much freight as they could bring down.

SOUTHERN RIVERS.—A STEWARD DEAD.—The Arkansas has scant 30 inches to Pine Bluff, and 22 above the Rock. Above the Rock there are no boats running. White river is falling with 6 feet to Augusta, and the St. Francis is too low for boats to go more than eight miles above the mouth.

The head Steward of the Mississippi died of cholera yesterday before reaching this place.—Memphis Bulletin, 18th.

THE PERRY SOLD.—Captain A. Baird, formerly of the White river packet Justice, has purchased the John D. Perry for $10,000, with a view of placing her in the New Orleans and White river trade.—Memphis Argus, 18th.

ANOTHER NEW ONE.—The Memphis and Vicksburg Packet Company contemplate building another fine packet for the Vicksburg trade, to take the place of the Di Vernon. The company intend to keep in the trade three first-class packets.—Memphis Avalanche.

New Orleans.

August 18.—New Orleans at present can boast of being as healthy as any city in the West. We find by our exchanges that they are all more or less afflicted with the prevailing disease, and hope the authorities will abandon all such bugbears as quarantine on steamboats plying between this port and the West. Business, we have but little to note. It still remains dull. On the levee yesterday there was but little doing. The arrivals were but few and far between. The St. Louis packet M. S. Mepham, Wood, came in on Wednesday night, and leaves again this evening.

The arrival yesterday was the Lady Gay, with a large cargo, from St. Louis, and will leave on Saturday.

The departures yesterday were the W. R. Arthur for St. Louis; Carrie Pool, for Red river, and Sonora, for Lafourche.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company.) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same Officers and Directors.
